U. S. Officials Move To Put New Controls on Wages and Living Costs.

Henderson Hits Forced Sale of Dwellings to Tenants To Evade Rent Ceilings.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Housewives may expect small cuts soon in some basic food prices, notably butter and cheese, government officials said today as they imposed the first of a series of new economic controls which will regulate the lives and habits of America's civilians for the duration.

Wages and salaries will be stabilized Profits are to be controlled. Food prices will be pegged No individual will be permitted to earn more than $25,000 a year after taxes. Rents are to be controlled and security of tenure assured.

This gargantuan operation was ordered over the week-end by President Roosevelt, with the approval and consent of congress, and officials moved swiftly to:

Set 60-day emergency price ceilings over virtually all food items hitherto exempt from control. These are effective today.

Extend to the entire continental United States rent controls now in force in 396 defense-rental areas. OPA Administrator Leon Henderson signs the orders today.

Former Supreme Court Justice James F. Byrnes, who was selected by President Roosevelt to be director of the new office of economic stabilization — OES, prepared to set up offices today in the White House. He said "I plan to get down to work immediately."

War Labor Board Chairman William H. Davis anticipated some implementation of the agency's wage determination policy, based on the "Little Steel" formula, in carrying out the new wage stabilization edict.

Henderson also disclosed that he would place sharp restrictions over the sale of dwelling units for

U. S. SUB LOST

1,526-Ton Grunion Reported Overdue in Pacific.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The navy announced today that the submarine Grunion had been overdue in the Pacific for some time and must be presumed lost.

The Grunion, launched at Groton, Conn., last December 22, was commanded by Lieut. Commander Mannert L. Abele, 39, of Quincy, Mass. The brief navy communique did not say how many men were aboard the submarine, but vessels of this class—1,526 tons—carry a normal complement of approximately 65 men.

This was the fifth submarine reported lost by the navy since the war began—two, the Shark and the Perch, were presumed lost by enemy action when long overdue in the western and southwestern Pacific areas; the S-26 was lost in a collision off Panama and the Sea Lion was demolished at Cavite in Manila bay to prevent capture.

BOMBAY—(U.P.)—Twelve persons were killed and 40 injured when the Bombay-Peshawar express was wrecked yesterday 200 miles northeast of Bombay.

Hold New Position

One seat was vacant on the supreme court today as the high tribunal convened with only eight justices in their chairs. Absent was James F Byrnes who resigned from the court last week to become director of the new economic stabilization program. Byrnes had served on the court only two days less than a year. Rumors were current in Washington that President Roosevelt might appoint Attorney General Francis Biddle to the court vacancy or that he might leave the post open for the duration and then reappoint Byrnes.

EIGHT-JUSTICE COURT MEETS

Biddle Rumored as Successor To Byrnes as Highest Tribunal Convenes.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—An eight-justice supreme court begins its 1942-43 term amid speculation in congress that Attorney General Francis Biddle may be named to succeed James F. Byrnes, now director of the new economic stabilization program, as the court's ninth member.

Byrnes resigned his seat at President Roosevelt's request to take over leadership of the anti-inflation program as director of the office of economic stabilization. He had served on the court only two days less than a year, having taken his seat along with Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson on Oct. 6, 1941.

In the opinion of many senators, Biddle was running far in the lead as Byrnes' likely successor. At least 10 senators pointed out that the post of attorney general "is the logical stepping stone to a supreme court judgeship." Two of Mr. Roosevelt's former attorneys general—Jackson and Frank Murphy—and a former solicitor general, Stacy F. Reed, now are members of the court.

Others mentioned in informal speculation for Byrnes' seat were former Sen. Sam Bratton of New Mexico, now judge of the 10th circuit court of appeals; Harold M. Stephens of Utah, now judge of the district of Columbia court of appeals, and Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

HITS EXPENSES

Hummel Charges Bricker Spends 88 Million More Thar Davey.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—State Rep. Lody Huml, Cleveland Democrat, today sent a pamphlet to members of the Ohio legislature, charging that "indisputable official figures show that (Governor) Bricker spent $88,000,000 more for the same services in his first three years than his predecessor."

Huml asserted that the state surplus, estimated by the Republican state administration at $13,000,000, should have been $100,000,000.

STALIN BLUNT IN CALL FOR SECOND FRONT

Asks That Allies Fulfill Their Pledges Fully and Without Delay.

CALLS AID INEFFECTIVE

Premier Says Reds Can Cope With Germans 'Or Any Other Aggressor.'

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW—Oft-voiced Russian desires for speedy establishment of a second front were given new urgency today by a blunt statement from Joseph Stalin and he called on the Allies to fulfill their pledges of aid fully and without delay.

The help they have delivered to date, he declared, had been comparatively ineffective.

Stalin's statement was delivered in the form of a letter answering three questions submitted to him in writing by this correspondent, chief of the Moscow bureau of the Associated Press, and represented the Soviet premier's first public utterance on the second front issue in more than a year.

The text of the letter, typed on a plain sheet of white notepaper and signed in a bold hand, follows:

"Dear Mr. Cassidy:

"Owing to the pressure of work and my consequent inability to grant you an interview, I shall confine myself to a brief written answer to your questions.

"Question: What place does the possibility of a second front occupy in the Soviet estimates of the current situation?'

'Answer: A very important place—one might say a place of first rate importance.

"Two: 'To what extend is Allied aid to the Soviet Union proving effective and what could be done to amplify and improve this aid?'

"Answer: 'As compared with the aid which the Soviet Union is giving to the Allies by drawing upon itself the main force of the German Fascists, the aid of the Allies to the Soviet Union has so far been little effective. In order to amplify and improve this aid, only one thing is required:

ORDERS CLOSING

Bricker Demands Sheriff Lock Up Cleveland 'Arrow Club.'

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov John W. Bricker today ordered Sheriff Stuart Harland of Geauga county to close by Saturday the Arrow club, which the governor identified as a gambling establishment.

Bricker threatened to have Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert investigate why the sheriff does not enforce the gambling laws if the club is not closed. The attorney general also will take steps to see that the gambling laws are enforced, Bricker informed Harland and Prosecutor Harold K. Bostwick.

"My attention has been repeatedly called to the open and flagrant violating of the law in the operation of a gambling club known as the Arrow in Geauga county and just a short distance from Cleveland," Bricker told the sheriff. "I have previously called your attention to this particular operation, but in spite of that fact the operation persists."

TRAIN SAVED

Coupling Breaks As Engine Goes Over Steep Fill.

ALTON, Ill. — (U.P.) — A broken coupling which kept a long passenger train from following an engine and a baggage car in a plunge down a high fill, near Wood River, Ill., probably averted a serious wreck on the Alton railroad today.

Because the coupling snapped when the locomotive and baggage car left the tracks, the cars remained upright and the passengers on the St. Louis bound carrier were scarcely shaken up.

DATES SET FOR VOTE RALLIES

McSweeney to Speak in City Oct. 13, Bricker to Appear at Meeting Oct. 23.

Mansfield and Richland county voters will get to hear both candidates for governor during the campaign, it was revealed today, with John McSweeney, Democratic nominee, to appear here Oct. 13 and Gov. John W. Bricker at a county-wide G. O. P. rally in Mansfield Oct. 23.

Gov. Bricker, seeking re-election, will appear with Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th district, Ralph Hardy, county G. O. P. executive chairman, said today.

McSweeney will speak at Young Democratic rally probably at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Hardy said it had not been decided where the Republican rally will be held in the city.

The governor will come to Mansfield from Ashland on a speaking trip through northcentral Ohio. Following his talk here at 8:30 p. m., he will go to Galion for a rally at 9:30 p m the same night.

The two party rallies will highlight the otherwise drab campaign in Richland county. Neither party plans to hold more than two important meetings before the Nov. 3 election and they may limit their county-wide sessions to one each, party leaders said.

WANT SIMIAN? JUST CATCH IT

Two Monkeys Escape Zoo, Keepers Say Public Can Have 'Em.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Want a pet monkey? All you have to do is catch one of two who took it on the lam last week, Columbus zoo officials said today.

The two fugitives, "Ike" and "Toscanini," have been at large since the moat, which was supposed to keep them on their island, was drained to clean it, and disgusted officials announced they have given up the search.

"Anyone smart enough to catch 'em can have 'em," said their keeper.

1 Dead, 1 Injured, 12 Arrested In Mansfield Area Traffic

Traffic mishaps claimed one life and injured one person in the Mansfield area over the week-end while officers, pushing their campaign against speeders, arrested eight drivers for exceeding 35 miles an hour and cited five others on traffic charges.

The fatality, one of four in Ohio, was Joseph Broach, 64, Windsor, struck and killed by a truck Saturday night as he walked along U. S. route 42 near his home.

Funeral services for Broach will be held Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Wappner Funeral home. Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, will be in charge. Burial will be in the Windsor cemetery.

Injured Saturday at 11:15 p. m. when his car struck a guard rail along State Route 39 north of Mansfield, Carl L. Bender, Shelby salesman, later was taken into custody by state highway patrolmen on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. He was to appear today before Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Bender was treated at General hospital for minor injuries. Patrolmen said his car damaged about 18 feet of guard rail.

Cited for speeding on U. S. Route 42 north of the city, Russel S. Moore of Worthington and Joseph J. Prince, Cleveland, posed $16.30 bond and waived hearing. Patrolmen said Moore was driving 64 miles an hour and Prince was clocked at 65 miles an hour.

Others arrested by patrolmen for speeding on route 42 were:

James C. Amey, Cleveland, who posted $16.30 bond and was released after signing a waiver.

Chester I. Harrison, Niles, O., fined $10 and costs in Mansfield Municipal court.

Leon A. Frame, Marion, fined $25 and costs by H. E. Andrews in Ashland police court.

Helen Tera Batarowich, Newton Falls, O., fined $10 and costs in Mansfield Municipal court today.

David Murad, Cleveland, and Elmer W. Diggle, Akron, both of whom posted $16.30 bond and signed waivers.

Clem Crisci, New Castle, Pa. fined $10 and costs in Mansfield municipal court.

Cited on other traffic charges were Owen O. Swank, Mansfield, arrested for permitting another driver, John Leighty, Akron to operate his car without a driving

CAN MAKE IT

Ball Clubs Able to Get to St. Louis If Necessary.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—An office of defense transportation spokesman said today that the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals probably will be able to travel to St. Louis—if they have to—without requesting any special privileges from the ODT.

He pointed out, however, that the question may be largely academic. The Cards have won three world's series games, the Yankees one. If the Cards win today, the series will be over. If the Yanks win, the next game is scheduled for Wednesday in St. Louis.

The issue arises from an ODT order issued last week—effective today—banning special trains or chartering of private cars

The ODT spokesman explained that the railroad chosen by the clubs could put extra cars on one of its regular trains and sell tickets to the ball clubs on those cars.

LAVAL PUTTING ON PRESSURE

Agrees To Enforce Labor Laws To Save Cabinet.

LONDON — (U.P.) — Pierre Laval has saved his Vichy cabinet by agreeing to put every means of pressure short of actual conscription on skilled French workers to work in German war factories, direct advices from Vichy revealed today.

After several days of doubt regarding the new Vichy attempt to recruit 150,000 skilled war workers for German factories, it was established that the government will strictly enforce its new compulsory labor decree under which all men between 21 and 55 years must work.

Germans Hurl Terrific Drive On Stalingrad

Soviets Hold At All But One Point, Stab Deeper Into Enemy Flank Northwest Of Volga City; Nazi Engineers In Fight.

(By United Press)

MOSCOW—A terrific German drive, using more than 100 tanks and hundreds of planes, stormed at the narrowest parts of Stalingrad's defenses today, seeking to blast a path into the heart of the city for reinforced ground troops.

The Volga metropolis was ablaze again as German planes, determined to pulverize its remnants, unleashed new and savage attacks.

Front dispatches said the Russians' heroic resistance repelled more than 12 attacks and yielded only at one point. In the northwestern section of Stalingrad, overwhelming German forces drove the Soviets back in a factory district.

But inside the great bend of the Don river, 60 to 70 miles northwest of Stalingrad, powerful Soviet forces stabbed deeper and deeper into the German left flank, rolling over heavy German defenses.

The unslackening Russian resistance at Stalingrad was taking the heaviest casualties from the enemy's assault troops, front advices said.

The Communist party organ, Pravda, said the gallant stand of Stalingrad had shattered Adolf Hitler's great strategic plans for 1942, and exhorted: "Stand firmer you defenders of Stalingrad. Hold! The mightier blows you deliver the enemy, the stronger and firmer will be the entire position of the entire Soviet."

Regimental Commissar Karpov wrote in the England language Moscow News that the Germans had brought up several reserve divisions (perhaps 45,000 men) and 100 tanks. He said German prisoners reported their officers were taking engineer forces working on roads and impressing them into street fighting, so desperate was becoming the German situation as regards reserves.

On all other sectors in Stalingrad, the defenders held firmly, although dispatches said more than 1,000 planes and several dozen tank and motorized divisions had intensified their pressure in the entire battle zone.

Generally, dispatches indicated, the situation was not changed. Marshal Semyon Timoshenko was driving steadily, but slowly, through the left German flank, northwest of Stalingrad, in an effort to drive to the city limits and trap those Germans fighting inside the city.

Timoshenko's counter-offensive, with Soviet counter-attacks southwest and south of Stalingrad, im-

Allied Planes Keep Up Steady Strafing as Ground Troops Push Throung Mountains.

(By International News Service)

GEN DOUGLAS M'ARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia — Australian jungle fighters pressed steadily forward today in the Owen Stanley mountains of New Guinea where the Japanese have been pushed back to a point beyond Efogi, 44 air miles from Port Moresby.

A communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that the Australian ground fighters, after capturing Efogi, were continuing to advance.

Forward units of Australians were revealed to have made "light contact" with some Japanese troops in the advance beyond Efogi. Heretofore the Australian advance had encountered no Japanese because of the swift withdrawal of enemy forces in the face of the concerted Allied

'FLASH FLOOD'

Broken Main Pours 50-Foot River Down Street.

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)— A stream of water 50 feet across and three feet deep poured down a hill on Cleveland's west side for five hours during the night, washing out pavement and property and chasing 64 families from their homes.

The water gushed from a broken city main 30 inches in diameter. Workers finally got the valves shut off at 2 a. m. The pavement suddenly buckled and water began to rush down a hill, churning up dirt and asphalt. A 300-foot section of West 25th street-Division avenue at the Lakewise Terrace was washed out.

Two three-inch gas lines broke at the intersection and civilian defense volunteers evacuated 250 persons from their homes. The gas was shut off an hour later.

U. S. SHIP TORPEDOED

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The navy announced today that a medium-sized American merchant ship was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Atlantic off the northern coast of South America about the middle of September.

Registration For November Election To Close Tonight

Mansfielders who want to vote in the Nov. 3 election and have failed to register or transfer must qualify at the board of elections headquarters by 9 p. m. today.

The board office will remain open later than usual to handle registrations and transfers of workers who are unable to go to the courthouse before the regular closing time, Clerk Philip Wolfe said.

Although the board office was open late Friday and Saturday nights, registrations were comparatively light, Wolfe said.

Absentee ballots for persons who have applied for them from outside the county and for voters who will be away from home election day were available today at the election board headquarters. The ballots were being mailed today by board clerks to servicemen and other applicants.

Another Contingent Leaves For Army, City Says Farewell

Mansfield staged a rousing send-off this morning for another big contingent of men who left for Camp Perry, O., to be assigned to army training centers.

The reservists were from the Board 2 district. They left in three buses at 9:40 a. m. from Park avenue west and Walnut street.

At the same time tomorrow there will be a send-off party for a big Board 3 contingent at the courthouse. The soldiers will meet in the draft board headquarters at the courthouse at 9 a. m. Tuesday for a brief program before they depart 40 minutes later, Earl Saltzgaber, chairman of the Richland Civic Victory committee, announced today.

The Mansfield Senior high school band, which played today, will provide the music again tomorrow in front of the courthouse, Saltzgaber said.

Band members played without their uniforms today because Principal Glenn G. Rohleder of Senior high school said it created too much confusion at the building when the band members returned to change their clothing following the send-off.

Absence of the colorful uniforms caused a number of persons to ask about the identity of the band this morning, Saltzgaber said.

Before the departure this morning of the group of reservists, one of the largest to leave from Board 2, the me nattended a brief program in the chamber of commerce rooms. Speakers were Sam Fox, representing the American Legion;

Death Takes J. Leo Hartmann, School Teacher For 44 Years

Teacher in Richland and Ashland county schools for nearly half a century, James Leo Hartmann, 69, former principal at John Simpson Junior high school, died at his home, 36 Stewart avenue, at 7:25 a. m. today after a lingering illness.

Mr. Hartmann retired as a teacher in 1938 after two years as supervisor of study at Mansfield Senior high school. He had been supervising principal at Hedges elementary school for 16 years before being elected principal of John Simpson high school in 1932.

He was president of both Richland and Ashland County Teachers' associations and was president of the Mansfield Teachers' association during the time the organization was successful in obtaining an increase in salaries for teachers.

6,000 Mansfield Pupils Join Scrap Salvage Campaign Today

More than 6,000 school children in Mansfield joined others throughout the nation today in the campaign to collect scrap metal and rubber for the war machine.

Thousands of schools had already started their campaigns, but the nation-wide program got under way this morning, Mansfield schools urging pupils to bring small pieces of scrap metal to their buildings.

Pupils in the Mansfield schools started looking for scrap last week, reporting their findings to the principals of their schools so collection trucks could be sent out to get it.

Supt. W. L. Miller urged boys and girls to confine their collection of scrap to bring to school to smaller articles such as keys, nuts, bolts, washers, and broken parts from household equipment that is no longer usable.

State governors have called upon pupils to do a complete job and, as they went about the search for old metal needed by the mills' war furnaces, they had this assuring word from President Roosevelt:

"I know they'll do their part."

Many a school declared a holiday so that on this opening day of their two-week drive they could make a whirlwind showing.

Falling Hair Sends Women Into Panic

MME. QUI VIVE

Hair specialists endeavor to explain this business of men going bald and women hanging onto their bram mats. They can't do it. They make guesses. Perhaps it is because women eat more vegetables, get mineral salts and vitamins Most likely, the solution is found in the fact that women take better care of their hair than men do. Shampoos are more thorough. A man rubs the bar of soap over his noble dome, stands under the shower; most of the suds remain on the shafts.

Thinning hair throws a woman into a panic. She just won't have it. She tears like mad to a beautytorium and has scalp treatments. If tissues are tightening, restricting circulation—the hair lives on the blood streams—massage will act as a corrective. She seeks information concerning proper home attentions She diligently and faithfully does everything she can do to keep her hirsute halo from going A. W. O. L.

When the hair falls, the victim is inclined not to use the brush. That is a mistake Every shaft brought out by the bristles is dead: the sooner it is out the better, so its understudy can emerge and carry on.

This method has been found effective in many cases of moulting tresses: one night a week give the hair a rousing brushing, holding it away from the head in small strands. Part it at various places, trickle hot mineral oil along the partings. Place fingers and thumbs outspread over the scalp, give the flesh a vigorous mauling, lifting and pinching the tissues until there comes a warm, glowing feeling. Continue the massage for at least ten minutes by the clock Oil the ends of the hair.

Wrap the head in a small towel and go to bed.

In the morning have a thorough shampoo, three soapings and as many rinsings with a bath spray and a strong current of water. Many women never get the soap out of their hair. The shafts become dry, lusterless and unmanageable.

Dry the hair in the sun. Strong sunlight may change the color somewhat but it has an invigorating effect upon the growth. Keep lifting the strands so the sunlight will fall upon the scalp.

Some hair specialists recommend daily doses of halibut liver oil, ten drops taken in a little clear coffee.

It is possible that some diet deficiency may be at the root of the trouble. So, if you are shedding your silky threads, eat a variety of foods.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

I INSTANTLY recognized the room to which my father had led us, although I had not seen it for some time. It was the central room of the basement, and into it the smaller rooms, really soundproof "dungeons," opened.

That Carolyn appraised the place at its true value I saw by the terrified look in her eyes, and her whitening lips She had pulled herself together at once, and when my father said impersonally, "Sit over there, Carolyn," indicating a chair in the corner, she walked to it at once and sat down.

She was shrewd enough, I fancied, to know that tantrums or taunts would do her no good in dealing with him.

"The rest of you take chairs anywhere," my father said, as he took his place behind the table, where he could look at Carolyn.

There is no trick of grilling which my father does not know. As he sat silently regarding Carolyn, while a clock ticked away the seconds, I knew he was using one he had found most effective.

Carolyn endured this silent scrutiny, not moving face or hands, for almost five minutes. Then her hands unclenched, her face crumbled like that of a woebegone little girl, and she began to cry.

Carolyn's Promise

"I will be good," she said, as a small child might after a punishment. "I'm sorry I've caused you all so much trouble, but I thought I was doing what was best for Marion. I see how wrong I was now."

"I am very glad you have come to your senses, Carolyn," my father said. There was such kindness and encouragement in his voice that for a panic-stricken instant I wondered if his protective instinct toward anything young and apparently helpless were blinding him to the girl's artifice

Tries Cajolery

But then I saw a wary, watchful look in his eyes, leaned back and relaxed. He knew exactly what he was doing.

"You can help us a great deal," he continued, "if you will only tell us what you know."

"But, Grandpa Spencer," she said pleadingly, and I noted that she used for the first time the affectionate term with which all the younger members of the family and their intimates address him, "I really don't know anything"

She emphasized the verb, and her protest was emphasized by the apparent bewilderment of her eyes

"Then why," my father asked, his voice and face changing to sternness again, "did you try so hard to get away from your friends?"

All the affairs of this day appear to be under excellent stimuli for notable success and gratification. Long static conditions may be stirred into high power pressure, by initiative, determined effort and outstanding skill, audacity and ingenuity. Hard work, well-planned strategies and complete mastery of affairs in hand, should culminate with unexpected progress and prosperity.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured a year of oustanding success and prosperity, with all affairs being spurred into major climax and importance through bold strokes of initiative and ingenuity. Especially should old obstacles or static situations be spurred into life, largely through industry, indomitable will power and well-directed energy, with new projects also flourishing.

A child born on this day should be energetic, forceful, persistent and have great ingenuity and enterprise.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

TO BID OR NOT TO BID

That is the question. When you have reached the fourth-hand position and have heard all three of the other players pass, what shall you do? The answer is easy if you have a strong hand, or if you have a very weak one The problem can be tough, though, if your holding is right on the borderline. "Don't disturb the animals" is a good motto to follow sometimes, especially if your power is mainly in the minor suits whereas "full steam ahead" is better, as a rule, if your hand is primarily a major suiter.

♠ A Q 9 5	♠ 8 2
♥ K Q 6 3	♥ 7 4 2
♦ 8 2	♦ K Q 6 3
♣ 7 4 3	♣ A Q 9 5

When you hold a hand like those shown, and the other players have all passed, you know your partner has approximately one-third of the cards you don't see, or about an average hand. That is, of course, unless one of the opponents really should have opened it. As a rule, however, when your own hand is on the borderline between a bid and a pass, like those above, the passes of the two opponents tell you that your partner has a bit of strength, but not much.

You know that, if you pass, at least your side will not lose any points. Also that, if you bid, your pair will either gain some points or lose some. The sole question is whether you think you will profit or suffer. If the oponents have a part score, so that they need only a trick or two, bid and made, to make a game, the odds are against you, so you should usually require a bit better hand than either of those in that circumstance. But, if you have a part-score, or neither side has, or both sides have, or you are playing in a duplicate game, then the odds are not against you prior to your looking at your cards

The deciding point on holdings like those is the question of whether your side probably can safely outbid the opponents The chances are that either side can take about as many tricks at its best declaration as the other side can at its best declaration If your holding is predominantly major-suit in nature, especially with spade length, the chances then are that the opponents, in order to outbid your safe maximum, will have to go a level higher than they safely can, and hence give you a chance to set them. Consequently most fine players would open Hand 1.

With Hand 2 the conditions are reversed Now, if each side can safely take the same number of tricks at its best suit, you probably will have to take a set in order to utbid opponents who have the majority of major suit cards. Hence Hand 2 makes a sounder pass The odds in favor of the first hand and against the second are probably about 53 to 47, but that is enough margin to count in the long run.

Tomorrow's Problem.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

If South's responses to the Blackwood convention showed you that South, who opened with 1-Spade, holds two aces and two kings, would you then bid the grand slam on North's hand of this deal?

Meat Loaf Is Economy for All Wartime

By BETSY NEWMAN

With steaks and chops at a premium, we can fall back on the meat loaf, for which we can utilize the cheaper cuts of meat, and which is good served hot- cold, in sandwiches and as hash.

Today's Menu.

Veal Loaf Baked Potatoes
Mashed Squash
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Fruit Marshmallow Tea

Veal Loaf.

3 lbs. veal, ground
¼ lb salt pork, ground
1½ tsp. salt
2 eggs, well beaten
4 soda crackers, rolled
¼ tsp pepper.

Mix well together, make into loaf and bake in 350° oven for 1½ hours. Add a little water to pan if necessary ½ hour after putting in oven. Serves 6 to 8.

Stuffed Tomato Salad.

6 ripe tomatoes
1 medium sized cucumber
1 head celery
1 cup cream dressing
Lettuce Salt, pepper

Scald tomatoes and slip skins off, cut slice from top of each and remove seeds with small spoon. Chill. Peel and dice cucumbers, dice celery, season with salt and paprika or pepper and add half of dressing. Fill tomato cups with rest of dressing poured over all. Serves 6.

Fruit Marshmallow.

2 Tbsps. plain gelatin
½ cup cold water
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup boiling fruit juice
1 cup peaches, diced
⅔ cup sugar 2 egg whites
1 cup bananas or other fruit
1 cup cream or evaporated milk
1 cup whipped marshmallows, diced
Few grains salt

Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes, add boiling fruit juice and stir until gelatin is dissolved; add lemon juice and sugar, cool. When it begins to thicken, beat and add egg whites, beaten stiff, marshmallows and fruit cut in small pieces. Fold in whipped cream and blend thoroughly. Pile in glasses and set in cold place for an hour or two. Serve with whipped cream. Serves 12.

Cards Send Beazley After Series Championship Today

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Committee in charge of the high school band's tag day Saturday was very well pleased today with the result —$523.

"In these times when so many organizations are asking for money, we feel that Saturday's effort was highly successful," Mrs. G. C. Young, publicity chairman, declared today.

It takes a lot of nickels and dimes to add up to 5 C's and 23 bucks, and too much credit can not be given the band kids who got out and worked for it.

Members of the committee were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Young, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hockett, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Newman.

If I heard it once last Friday night, I heard it a dozen times from Mansfield football fans getting their first glimpse of Al Fendrick's Madison Rams:

"These kids really get in there and fight. Why they couldn't wait to get at those Orrville guys."

Yes sir, the Rams did have a lot of fight for that game, and they needed it, for Orrville wasn't nearly as bad a team as the 26-0 score might indicate.

If ever a team was keyed up for one game, the Rams were last Friday night. They wanted revenge for two previous beatings, and they got it.

Comes today a letter from Jarrin' Johnny Carr whose long drives used to thrill the Possum Run golfers.

John says he's sorry he didn't get to see me on his recent 10-day furlough and that he would have needed at least 10 more days to see all the people he wanted to when he was home.

But he expects to see at least a couple more Mansfield boys in the near future. "I've just been transferred to Fort Bragg, N. C., which isn't far from Duke university, and I hope to get over there one of these days to see Bob Winbigler and Paul Dietzel playing a bit of football for the Dukes," John writes.

John saw the Mansfield-Akron West game during his visit home, but he wasn't much impressed by this year's Tygers.

"All I can say is that they had a good crowd, some dandy uniforms, and Roland Schmidt that night," says John. "I wish them luck and I think they will need it."

CARDS FINALLY GET LONG END OF ODDS

NEW YORK — (UP) — The St. Louis Cardinals were 3½ to 1 favorites to win the World series over the New York Yankees today. The Yankees were 2 to 1 to win today's game.

Ohio Finds Out It Has Ball Club

Brown's Buckeyes Play Heads-Up Brand of Game.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Those Ohio State Bucks, 32 to 21 victors over Indiana's highly-rated Hoosiers Saturday, are a pretty fair country ball club, and they're liable to have a lot to say about who wears the western conference crown this year

A quick thumbing through the statistics for the first two games —the conquest of Indiana and the 59-0 rout of Fort Knox— shows the Bucks are playing heads-up ball, that they take advantage of every break, and that they are a one-to-two bet to score everytime they get their hands on the pigskin.

Against the first two opponents Ohio has had possession of the ball 28 times, and the Bucks have scored 14 touchdowns, being forced to punt seven times, losing the ball three times on fumbles and three times on pass interceptions, and only once on downs.

On the other hand the Bucks have intercepted seven forward passes—and turned four of them into touchdowns, while the lone fumble recovered by Paul Brown's boys also resulted in a six-pointer.

On rushing the Bucks show a net yardage of 781 against 165 for the two opponents, and Ohio is out front through the airways by 175 yards to 87.

Gene Fekete, sophomore fullback from Findlay, who cracked the Indiana line for three touchdowns Saturday, and then booted two extra points for a total of 20, tops the team in scoring with 35 markers.

With only one game having been played in the conference, the Bucks hold the lead in everything. Fekete is the leading scorer with 20 points, and Ohio State is on top in the standing. And the 48,227 folks who saw Saturday's battle are firm in their belief the Bucks might stay up there for a while.

Fine Football Menu Offered

21 Games Booked on Ohio College Schedule.

COLUMBUS —(UP)— One of the season's finest football menus is in the offing for Ohio's collegiate fans this week-end.

The Buckeye squads are offering 21 games, 12 against out-of-state foes (seven on foreign gridirons), five Ohio conference frays, and six battles under the lights.

Seven of the state's dozen unbeaten-untied squads tangle with outside opposition, and the toll is expected to be terrific. Headline attraction, of course, is between Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes and the Trojans of Southern California who staged a 0-0 deadlock Saturday with Washington.

Dayton, the only three-game winner in Ohio, tosses its big record on the block against Tennessee at Knoxville Saturday, and the Vols are odds-on favorites.

Three games have been erased from the slate. Keesler Field, having given up football, will not play Akron Friday as slated; the tentative battle between John Carroll and Wright-Patterson Field is off, and Rio Grande is still looking for a homecoming foe for Saturday after Tusculum of Greenville, Tenn., cancelled.

However, these choice attractions are definitely on tap:

Friday night: Findlay at Muskingum, Wilberforce vs. Tuskegee at Chicago, Ohio Wesleyan at Baldwin Wallace, Western Reserve at Syracuse, and Western Kentucky Teachers at Youngstown.

Saturday night: Centre at Cincinnati.

Saturday: Heidelberg at Wooster, Oberlin at Denison, Kenyon at Otterbein, Ohio Northern at Wittenberg, Bowling Green at Ball State Teachers (Muncie, Ind.), Hiram at Westminster (New Wilmington Pa.) Case at Carnegie Tech (Pittsburgh), Southern California at Ohio State, Butler at Ohio university, Western Michigan at Toledo, Capital at Bluffton, Kent State at Miami U., Dayton at Tennessee (Knoxville), Miami Naval Unit at De Pauw (Greencastle, Ind.).

Sunday: John Carroll at Xavier.

Mansfield Picked For Moose Tourney

Mansfield will play host this winter to the state Moose bowling tournament, according to announcement by H. A. Schaffer of Delaware, president of the Ohio Moose bowling association.

Originally Lorain was selected for the tournament, but withdrew in favor of a more central location to help the tire and travel situation.

The tournament will be conducted over four week-ends in February, with entries closing Jan. 16.

Intersectional Tilts Headline Football Card

Intersectional games top the football card for Saturday, Oct. 10, with the Stanford-Notre Dame and Ohio State-Southern California games at the midwestern schools' home fields the standout attractions. Other big games match Duke and Texas A. & M., Michigan and Iowa, Navy, Pitt and Great Lakes, Wisconsin and Missouri, Yale and Penn and Army and Cornell.

Hands Orchids To Slaughter

Moore Claims Throw Broke Yanks' Heart.

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK — (UP) — Terry Moore, key man for the St. Louis Cardinals in the current world series, was in his pajamas (white with purple stripes) when we barged into his hotel room and asked him to give us the highlights—the most significant moment in the classic, to date.

Terrible Terry, centerfielder and captain of the club that has been performing with unexpected effectiveness against the widely publicized Yankees never batted a light brown eyelash (despite his robust batting average) when he said:

"The big moment in the series was not in the ninth inning of the first game at St. Louis, when we picked up four runs, then filled the bases and had Stan Musial at bat with what might have been the winning run if he hit a homer —was important. It sent the Yankees back to their showers figuring that maybe they were in a fight, after all. But, mister, when Slaughter threw that strike from way out in right field to nail Stainback at third base in the second game—that broke their hearts. That was the moment and the play when our boys knew—or at least thought they knew—that they were certain to win this series, which I, incidentally, still hope we will win."

Moore, one of the greatest centerfielders in major league history and a handsome six-footer who could pose for red-flannel ads, replied to another pertinent question as follows:

"It's wrong to make fun of the Brooklyn Dodgers because we came on to beat them after they had a 10½ game lead on Aug. 5. Listen—those Dodgers gave us a lot more competition in the stretch than the Yankees have in this series. And that's no reflection on the Yanks, who have a very good team. Certainly, the Dodgers would have given the Yanks a great fight, if they had beaten us out for the National league pennant."

"Well, what's wrong with the Yanks now?" we asked.

Moore replied:

"There's nothing wrong with the Yanks. But they're not as strong as we expected. Our boys think they're very weak in pitching. After four games in which the boys sampled the deliveries of their best throwers, they say they'd rather face Yankee pitching every day in the National league season than bat against those Cincinnati moundsmen."

Terry said the biggest surprise the Yanks gave the Cards was their continual beefing about decisions at any base and at any time.

Edwards Fired As Coach Of Lions

DETROIT —(UP)— John Karcis, former assistant coach, will guide the Detroit Lions of the National Professional Football league as head coach for the remainder of the season, it was announced today.

Head Coach Bill Edwards and his assistant, Roy Miller, were released outright following the Lions' third straight league loss to the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—Wide World—In the middle of the Yanks' big inning yesterday the wind finally unfurled a big banner that had been draped disconsolately around the flagpole . . . It said: "New York Yankees World Champions 1941." . . . There's your story of the series . . . The Yanks still are good, but they're not the irresistible Yanks of a year ago, and the Cards are a livelier, more dangerous club than the Dodgers were last fall . . . Somehow, the clubs found room for all hands on a train tonight.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

F. W. Thomas, London (Eng.) Star: "Properly to enjoy baseball, you need lungs of leather, a throat of brass and a vivid and vicious vocabulary."

SERIOUS STUFF

Maybe Mr. Thomas' apt observation (see above) explains why we didn't enjoy yesterday's game . . . The largest crowd in World Series history was there and you couldn't tell from the noise which was the home team . . . Joe DiMaggio has read "Victory Through Air Power" twice, but Charley Keller seems to be the only player who is applying it.

CLEANING THE CUFF

New Jersey's new boxing commissioner, John Hall, is waiving license requirements for soldiers in order to encourage the boys in army camps to do a little leather-flinging in nearby cities . . . One reason for calling off the Augusta Masters golf tournament is a shortage of "Masters."

Bierman Keeps Winning Touch

Threatens To Take National Grid Honors.

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—The same magic touch that guided the Minnesota Gophers to top national ranking time and again today promised to bring the hard-hitting Iowa Air Cadets honors as the country's top gridiron squad.

The hand that once guided the one and now guides the other is that of Bernie Bierman, now a lieutenant colonel.

The Iowa Cadets featured Saturday's college card of upsets by polishing off the Gophers, 7-6, after Minnesota had registered an impressive 50-7 triumph over Pittsburgh a week ago. Previously Biterman's Seahawks had walloped Kansas, 61-0, and rolled to a 20-12 decision over highly-regarded Northwestern.

This week-end Bierman's Servicemen once again grab the national spot light as college football, with the World Series out of the way, dominates the sports scene. The Cadets collide with their fourth big time, Mid-Western Powerhouse when they tackle Michigan's mighty Wolverines at Ann Arbor.

The Iowa-Minnesota game was only one of four stunning upsets that helped clarify the pigskin picture. Tennessee rebounded with shocking force from a scoreless tie with South Carolina last week to rout a supposedly powerful Fordham team, 40-14, Georgia Tech scored a brilliant, 13-6 triumph over Notre Dame; and Oregon State, last year's Pacific coast kings, drubbed this year's pre-season title home, California, 13-8.

Sectional favorites stood out more distinctly after two weekends of competition. In the east, it looked like Penn and Duquesne as the Quakers steam-rollered a young but talented Harvard club, 19-7, while the Iron Dukes drubbed Holy Cross, 25-6. Williams 19-7 conquest of Princeton eliminated the Tigers from any consideration as de-emphasized Pitt bounced back into the spotlight with a 20-7 decision over Southern Methodist.

Northwestern shot up the Mid-Western calendar by squeezing through with a 3-0 victory over Texas' strong outfit, Ohio State ran rough-shod over Indiana, 32-21, Nebraska beat Iowa State, 26-0, Michigan blanked Michigan State, 20-0, and Illinois swamped Butler, 67-0.

In the south, a fast-moving Vanderbilt eleven trimmed Purdue, 26-0, Alabama clipped Mississippi State, 21-6, North Carolina slammed South Carolina, 18-6, North Carolina State shaded Clemson, 7-6, Auburn defeated Tulane, 27-13, and William & Mary beat Vip, 21-7.

Texas Christian looked like the class of the Southwest with a 13-6 triumph over Arkansas. Texas A. & M. blanked Texas Tech 19-0, and Tulsa trounced Oklahoma, 23-0.

On the coast, Washington and Southern California deadlocked in a scoreless tie, Santa Clara trimmed Stanford, 14-6, and Washington State stopped University of Oregon, 7-0.

Junior High Teams To Tangle Twice

Two games have been scheduled this fall in the Johnny Appleseed-John Simpson football rivalry, the first on Oct. 16 in the afternoon and the second Nov. 6 at night. Both games will be at the high school stadium.

Following schedules for the two schools were announced today by Athletic Director Harry Mehock:

SIMPSON

Oct. 7—at Madison.
Oct. 16—Appleseed.
Oct. 21—Galion.
Act. 28—at Shelby
Nov. 6—Appleseed

APPLESEED

Oct. 7—at Galion.
Oct. 16—Simpson.
Oct. 24—Shelby.
Oct. 28—Galion.
Nov. 6—Simpson.

Lost: One Ohio Football Scout

COLUMBUS—(AP)—It looks like Ohio State university's footballers will concentrate on offense the next couple of days—whether they like it or not—as they prepare for their game here Saturday with the University of Southern California Trojans.

Any hope of schooling the Bucks in defensive tactics for use against the Trojans was shattered for a few days at least when Paul Brown learned yesterday that Scout William (Tippy) Dye was delayed en route home from the west coast by cancellations of his airplane reservation.

Dye, armed with notes, charts and diagrams of Southern Cal's 0-0 game with Washington Saturday, was "grounded" in Seattle and wasn't expected home with his report on the Trojans' touchdown strategy until Tuesday night.

Form Players Hit Bad Day

Find College Football Winners Hard to Pick.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK—(AP)—As subtle as a dollar alarm clock is the impression that this football season will be one without form.

This view isn't caused by the early defeats already pasted to the records of Minnesota, Texas, Notre Dame, Louisiana State, Fordham and other annual contenders for recognition. Rather, it's the variance in the play of a club from one week to the next.

Louisiana State pushed over Texas A & M on September's last Saturday but was a pushover for Rice in October's opener. Pittsburgh was a 50 to 7 victim of Minnesota one week but a 20 to 7 master of Southern Methodist the next. And the Gophers followed their lop-sided win by losing to the Iowa Pre-Flight Cadets, 7 to 6.

The lack of consistency is attributed by numerous coaches to a lack of adequate reserves because of the war's manpower demands and the use of freshmen.

For the third straight week the Iowa Cadets of Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman will tangle with Big Ten opposition this Saturday. This time it will be Michigan, already the conquerer of the Great Lakes squad.

Princeton, spilled by little Williams, and Navy move into the New York Yankees stadium, and Army, safely past Lafayette, is host to Cornell, which lost for the first time in six contests to Colgate, 18 to 6.

The midwest offers the Stanford at Notre Dame battle plus the appearance of Southern California, held to a scoreless draw by Washington, at Columbus. Wisconsin, which got four touchdowns in one period against Marquette, collides with equally unbeaten Missouri at Madison.

In the south, Florida engages Auburn, and Georgia, hoping that Frankie Sinkwich will be back to par, goes against Mississippi, while the area's big game is the meeting of Louisiana State and Mississippi State.

Tennessee, which all but annihilated Fordham, 40 to 14, picks on little Dayton. Texas has its annual scrimmage with Oklahoma. Pacific Coast interest will be centered on the Oregon State-U. C. L. A. battle.

Need Only One More Victory Over Yanks

McCarthy Depends On Red Ruffing To Keep New York In Running

By LEO H. PETERSEN

NEW YORK—(UP)—The red hot St. Louis Cardinals send their rookie pitching star, Johnny Beazley, against the New York Yankees today in an effort to win the 1942 world series.

Needing only one more victory to capture the title that looked hopelessly out of their reach two months ago, the Cardinals had to beat big Red Ruffing to complete in five games one of sports' major upsets. And if they do, neither the sixth nor the seventh games scheduled for St. Louis Wednesday and Friday will be necessary.

Ruffing beat the Cardinals in the first game, 7 to 4, and Beazley, who will be pitching his last game for the duration, put the Cardinals back on the right foot by winning the second, 4 to 3. Beazley is scheduled to join the marines as soon as the world series is over.

From the way those Red Birds have been playing ball it may be over today. Up until yesterday's game, they had been winning on the breaks. But then they won the fourth game, before the largest crowd in world series history, after they had handed the Yankees the tying run.

Giving the Yankees a break almost always has been fatal, but the Cardinals were a good enough ball club to overcome it. They had their leading pitcher knocked out of the box and committed an error which permitted the Yankees to tie the score, but it didn't unsettle the National league champions.

They kept driving—and running —until they triumphed by a score of 9 to 6.

The Yankees are in a hole. Not many teams have overcome a 3 to 1 deficit to win a world series and the Bronx bombers don't appear good enough to do it. Red Ruffing is their hope today. If he can't come through, the Yankees, for the first time since 1926, will have lost a world series.

Few people figured the Cardinals had any business in the series. A record crowd of 69,902 — breaking the Saturday mark of 69,123—sat in on a demonstration that showed why they were there.

A lot of ball clubs would become tense and crack after losing a five-run lead behind their pitching ace as the Cardinals did yesterday, but Manager Billy Southworth doesn't have that kind of a club.

The Cards gave Morton Cooper a five-run lead with a six-run, six-hit fourth-inning rally. Cooper, who was knocked out of the box in the first game and had yielded a run in the first inning yesterday, allowed the Yankees to get four of them back in the sixth. Charley Keller's second series home run being the big blow. Cooper then was taken out and his successor, Harry Gumbert, was the victim of a wild throw to first base by Whitey Kurowski and the Yankees eventually got the runner around to tie the score.

But it didn't bother the Cardinals. They came back in the seventh to break a tie with two runs and that was the ball game. They didn't need the run they picked up in the ninth.

Max Lanier, who came on to hold the Yankees off in the last three innings, was credited with the victory by the official scorers. He was not in the game officially, however, when the Cardinals put on their winning rally in the seventh. Howie Pollet had pitched one ball to end the Yankee uprising in the sixth and under old scoring rules would have been the winning pitcher.

Atley Donald, Yankee righthander, was the loser. He had replaced Hank Borowy, the Yankee rookie ace during the Cardinals' third-inning rally.

In addition to setting a new attendance record, the fourth game also set a new world series record for a single game's receipts. The receipts totaled $269,408 of which $137,398.08 went to the players' pool—now completed—and $132,009.92 to the U. S. O., chief beneficiary of this first wartime world series since 1919.

Mayer Takes County Title

Wins Tournament With Six-Stroke Margin.

The "Mayer of Stocking Avenue" is the new Richland county golf champion today. Joe Mayer, Coolridge champion and former Possum Run golf king, won the county title yesterday at Westbrook country club with a consistent 76-76—152 total.

His morning round, played in the rain, was little less than sensational as he shot a 37-39, four over par.

Joe had a six-stroke lead on his cousin, Al Hager, the defending champion, who came in with 79-79 —158 for second place.

Third was Gene Zediker, Westbrook champion, with a 159, while Bill Jacobs was fourth with 160, and Adam Brandt fifth with 164.

White Sox Depend On Lyons Again

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Ted Lyons, veteran White Sox pitcher, will try to clinch the city series for the Sox tonight and run his personal victory string over the Cubs to seven.

Lyons won the opener last week with a three hit verdict over Bill Lee, his opponent tonight. That victory was supposed to have been a farewell performance for the veteran who reports soon for active duty in the marine corps. Jimmy Dykes, Sox manager, however, called on Lyons again in an effort to end the series tonight. The Sox lead the series three games to one.

The Cubs unleashed a 12 hit attack against Thornton Lee and Bucky Ross yesterday to win 5 to 3. Clyde McCullough, Bruin catcher, paced the attack by hitting three singles and scoring twice.

Hiram Bithorn allowed the Sox eight hits but kept them under control until the last inning when they scored twice.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

FLIERS' PICTURES REVERSED

CADET PEAT

LIEUT. GARBER

Through an error in identification of pictures the above photos were reversed in the Sunday edition of the News Journal. Cadet Frank W. Peat was killed in an airplane accident at the army's advanced flying school at Columbus, Miss., and funeral services were held yesterday at the Bellville Methodist church. Lieut. Clark M. Garber, jr., recently went through a hair-raising experience while flying a bomb-laden flying fortress through clouds over England. The story of how he saved his plane and its crew when another plane turned on them was told in a graphic letter to his father Clark M. Garber of Butler.

SHELBY CHURCH 50 YEARS OLD

St. Mark's Congregation Hears Bishop During Anniversary Service.

SHELBY — Members of St. Mark's Episcopal congregation gathered at the church on Sunday to hear the Rt. Rev. B. D. Tucker, D.D., of Cleveland, bishop of Ohio, and mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of St. Mark's church in Shelby.

Rev. R. F. McGregor, pastor of the church, took part in the ceremonies and introduced the bishop.

The original chapel of St. Mark's church was built during 1892 and the cornerstone was officially laid on Sept. 6, 1892.

This edifice was built at the corner of Whitney and Water street. In 1925 the building was moved to the corner of Gamble street and Whitney avenue, the present site. It was enlarged to accommodate the growing congregation.

FACES CHARGE

Ex-Constable Accused of Shooting at Ex-Wife.

GALION — Daniel C. Barrett, former Polk township constable, was bound over to the Crawford county grand jury under $5,000 bond on charges of shooting with intent to kill.

The charge which was heard in Mayor William Amann's court Saturday morning, was preferred by Mrs. Hazel Barrett, who recently obtained a divorce from him.

Barrett was arrested Friday night at Mrs. Barrett's home on Charles street, where she charged he had threatened her with a shotgun. The gun was fired, shooting holes in the refrigerator, officers said.

PLAN MEETING

Ashland Schoolmasters Will Convene This Week.

ASHLAND — The Ashland County Schoolmasters will meet Thursday at 4:30 p. m. at the office of County Superintendent V. B. Moffett.

After adjournment for dinner they will reconvene at 7:30 p. m. to hear an address by C. G. Keck, of the State Department of Education. He will discuss the Pupil Guidance program.

Music teachers of the county schools will meet in Supt. Moffett's office Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. for a discussion of plans for music programs for the schools of the county.

MEMBERS SOUGHT

CRESTLINE—A committee to recruit new members was named at the meeting of the Forward In Faith class of Trinity Lutheran church held recently at the home of Mrs. C. H. Lange. The committee consists of Mrs. Anton Peterson, jr., Mrs. Robert Retter, jr., and Mrs. Clarence Sherer.

Mrs. L. L. Hill had charge of the meeting and Mrs. Edward Plummer presented the lesson topic, "Christian Science." Devotions were led by Mrs. Harry Kraner.

Cards Send Beazley After Series Championship Today

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Committee in charge of the high school band's tag day Saturday was very well pleased today with the result —$523.

"In these times when so many organizations are asking for money, we feel that Saturday's effort was highly successful," Mrs. G. C. Young, publicity chairman, declared today.

It takes a lot of nickels and dimes to add up to 5 C's and 23 bucks, and too much credit can not be given the band kids who got out and worked for it.

Members of the committee were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Young, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hockett, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Newman.

If I heard it once last Friday night, I heard it a dozen times from Mansfield football fans getting their first glimpse of Al Fendrick's Madison Rams:

"These kids really get in there and fight. Why they couldn't wait to get at those Orrville guys."

Yes sir, the Rams did have a lot of fight for that game, and they needed it, for Orrville wasn't nearly as bad a team as the 26-0 score might indicate.

If ever a team was keyed up for one game, the Rams were last Friday night. They wanted revenge for two previous beatings, and they got it.

Comes today a letter from Jarrin' Johnny Carr whose long drives used to thrill the Possum Run golfers.

John says he's sorry he didn't get to see me on his recent 10-day furlough and that he would have needed at least 10 more days to see all the people he wanted to when he was home.

But he expects to see at least a couple more Mansfield boys in the near future. "I've just been transferred to Fort Bragg, N. C., which isn't far from Duke university, and I hope to get over there one of these days to see Bob Winbigler and Paul Dietzel playing a bit of football for the Dukes," John writes.

John saw the Mansfield-Akron West game during his visit home, but he wasn't much impressed by this year's Tygers

"All I can say is that they had a good crowd, some dandy uniforms, and Roland Schmidt that night," says John "I wish them luck and I think they will need it"

CARDS FINALLY GET LONG END OF ODDS

NEW YORK — (UP) The St Louis Cardinals were 3½ to 1 favorites to win the World series over the New York Yankees today. The Yankees were 2 to 1 to win today's game.

Ohio Finds Out It Has Ball Club

Brown's Buckeyes Play Heads-Up Brand of Game.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Those Ohio State Bucks, 32 to 21 victors over Indiana's highly-rated Hoosiers Saturday, are a pretty fair country ball club, and they're liable to have a lot to say about who wears the western conference crown this year

A quick thumbing through the statistics for the first two games —the conquest of Indiana and the 59-0 rout of Fort Knox— shows the Bucks are playing heads-up ball, that they take advantage of every break, and that they are a one-to-two bet to score everytime they get their hands on the pigskin.

Against the first two opponents Ohio has had possession of the ball 28 times, and the Bucks have scored 14 touchdowns, being forced to punt seven times, losing the ball three times on fumbles and three times on pass interceptions, and only once on downs.

On the other hand the Bucks have intercepted seven forward passes—and turned four of them into touchdowns, while the lone fumble recovered by Paul Brown's boys also resulted in a six-pointer.

On rushing the Bucks show a net yardage of 781 against 165 for the two opponents and Ohio is out front through the airways by 175 yards to 87.

Gene Fekete, sophomore fullback from Findlay, who cracked the Indiana line for three touchdowns Saturday, and then booted two extra points for a total of 20, tops the team in scoring with 35 markers.

* * *

With only one game having been played in the conference, the Bucks hold the lead in everything Fekete is the leading scorer with 20 points, and Ohio State is on top in the standing And the 48,227 folks who saw Saturday's battle are firm in their belief the Bucks might stay up there for a while.

Fine Football Menu Offered

21 Games Booked on Ohio College Schedule.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— One of the season's finest football menus is in the offing for Ohio's collegiate fans this week-end.

The Buckeye squads are offering 21 games, 12 against out-of-state foes (seven on foreign gridirons), five Ohio conference frays, and six battles under the lights.

Seven of the state's dozen unbeaten-untied squads tangle with outside opposition, and the toll is expected to be terrific Headline attraction, of course, is between Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes and the Trojans of Southern California who staged a 0-0 deadlock Saturday with Washington.

Dayton, the only three-game winner in Ohio, tosses its big record on the block against Tennessee at Knoxville Saturday and the Vols are odds-on favorites.

Three games have been erased from the slate Keesler Field, having given up football, will not play Akron Friday as slated; the tentative battle between John Carroll and Wright-Patterson Field is off, and Rio Grande is still looking for a homecoming foe for Saturday after Tusculum of Greenville, Tenn., cancelled

However, these choice attractions are definitely on tap.

Friday night: Findlay at Muskingum, Wilberforce vs. Tuskegee at Chicago, Ohio Wesleyan at Baldwin Wallace, Western Reserve at Syracuse, and Western Kentucky Teachers at Youngstown.

Saturday night: Centre at Cincinnati

Saturday: Heidelberg at Wooster, Oberlin at Denison, Kenyon at Otterbein Ohio Northern at Wittenberg, Bowling Green at Ball State Teachers (Muncie, Ind.), Hiram at Westminster (New Wilmington, Pa.) Case at Carnegie Tech (Pittsburgh), Southern California at Ohio State, Butler at Ohio University, Western Michigan at Toledo, Capital at Bluffton, Kent State at Miami U., Dayton at Tennessee (Knoxville), Miami Naval Unit at De Pauw (Greencastle, Ind.).

Sunday John Carroll at Xavier.

Mansfield Picked For Moose Tourney

Mansfield will play host this winter to the state Moose bowling tournament, according to announcement by H. A. Schaffer of Delaware, president of the Ohio Moose bowling association.

Originally Lorain was selected for the tournament, but withdrew in favor of a more central location to help the tire and travel situation.

The tournament will be conducted over four week-ends in February, with entries closing Jan. 16.

Intersectional Tilts Headline Football Card

Intersectional games top the football card for Saturday, Oct. 10, with the Stanford-Notre Dame and Ohio State-Southern California games at the midwestern schools' home fields the standout attractions. Other big games match Duke and Texas A. & M., Michigan and Iowa, Navy, Pitt and Great Lakes, Wisconsin and Missouri, Yale and Penn and Army and Cornell.

Hands Orchids To Slaughter

Moore Claims Throw Broke Yanks' Heart.

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK — (UP) — Terry Moore, key man for the St. Louis Cardinals in the current world series, was in his pajamas (white with purple stripes) when we barged into his hotel room and asked him to give us the highlights—the most significant moment in the classic, to date.

Terrible Terry, centerfielder and captain of the club that has been performing with unexpected effectiveness against the widely publicized Yankees never batted a light brown eyelash (despite his robust batting average) when he said:

"The big moment in the series was not in the ninth inning of the first game at St. Louis, when we picked up four runs, then filled the bases and had Stan Musial at bat with what might have been the winning run if he hit a homer —was important. It sent the Yankees back to their showers figuring that maybe they were in a fight, after all. But, mister, when Slaughter threw that strike from way out in right field to nail Stainback at third base in the second game— that broke their hearts That was the moment and the play when our boys knew—or at least thought they knew—that they were certain to win this series, which I, incidentally, still hope we will win"

Moore, one of the greatest centerfielders in major league history and a handsome six-footer who could pose for red-flannel ads, replied to another pertinent question as follows:

"It's wrong to make fun of the Brooklyn Dodgers because we came on to beat them after they had a 10½ game lead on Aug 5 Listen—those Dodgers gave us a lot more competition in the stretch than the Yankees have in this series. And that's no reflection on the Yanks, who have a very good team. Certainly, the Dodgers would have given the Yanks a great fight, if they had beaten us out for the National league pennant"

"Well, what's wrong with the Yanks now?" we asked.

"There's nothing wrong with the Yanks. But they're not as strong as we expected. Our boys think they're very weak in pitching. After four games in which the boys sampled the deliveries of their best throwers, they say they'd rather face Yankee pitching every day in the National league season than bat against those Cincinnati moundsmen."

Terry said the biggest surprise the Yanks gave the Cards was their continual beefing about decisions at any base and at any time.

Edwards Fired As Coach Of Lions

DETROIT — (UP) — John Karcis, former assistant coach, will guide the Detroit Lions of the National Professional Football league as head coach for the remainder of the season, it was announced today.

Head Coach Bill Edwards and his assistant, Roy Miller, were released outright following the Lions' third straight league loss to the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—Wide World—In the middle of the Yanks' big inning yesterday the wind finally unfurled a big banner that had been draped disconsolately around the flagpole . . . It said: "New York Yankees. World Champions 1941." . . . There's your story of the series . . . The Yanks still are good, but they're not the irresistible Yanks of a year ago, and the Cards are a livelier, more dangerous club than the Dodgers were last fall . . . Somehow, the clubs found room for all hands on a train tonight.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

F. W. Thomas, London (Eng.) Star: "Properly to enjoy baseball, you need lungs of leather, a throat of brass and a vivid and vicious vocabulary."

SERIOUS STUFF

Maybe Mr. Thomas' apt observation (see above) explains why we didn't enjoy yesterday's game . . . The largest crowd in World Series history was there and you couldn't tell from the noise which was the home team . . . Joe DiMaggio has read "Victory Through Air Power" twice, but Charley Keller seems to be the only player who is applying it

New Jersey's new boxing commissioner, John Hall, is waiving license requirements for soldiers in order to encourage the boys in army camps to do a little leather-flinging in nearby cities . . . One reason for calling off the Augusta Masters golf tournament is a shortage of "Masters."

Bierman Keeps Winning Touch

Threatens To Take National Grid Honors.

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—The same magic touch that guided the Minnesota Gophers to top national ranking time and again today promised to bring the hard-hitting Iowa Air Cadets honors as the country's top gridiron squad.

The hand that once guided the one and now guides the other is that of Bernie Bierman, now a lieutenant colonel.

The Iowa Cadets featured Saturday's college card of upsets by polishing off the Gophers, 7-6, after Minnesota had registered an impressive 50-7 triumph over Pittsburgh a week ago. Previously Biterman's Seahawks had walloped Kansas, 61-0, and rolled to a 20-12 decision over highly-regarded Northwestern.

This week-end Bierman's Servicemen once again grab the national spot light as college football, with the World Series out of the way, dominates the sports scene. The Cadets collide with their fourth big time, Mid-Western Powerhouse when they tackle Michigan's mighty Wolverines at Ann Arbor.

The Iowa-Minnesota game was only one of four stunning upsets that helped clarify the pigskin picture. Tennessee rebounded with shocking force from a scoreless tie with South Carolina last week to rout a supposedly powerful Fordham team, 40-14. Georgia Tech scored a brilliant, 13-6 triumph over Notre Dame, and Oregon State, last year's Pacific coast kings, drubbed this year's pre-season title home, California, 13-8.

Sectional favorites stood out more distinctly after two weekends of competition. In the east, it looked like Penn and Duquesne as the Quakers steam-rollered a young but talented Harvard club, 19-7, while the Iron Dukes drubbed Holy Cross, 25-6. Williams 19-7 conquest of Princeton eliminated the Tigers from any consideration as de-emphasized Pitt bounced back into the spotlight with a 20-7 decision over Southern Methodist.

Northwestern shot up the Mid-Western calendar by squeezing through with a 3-0 victory over Texas' strong outfit, Ohio State ran rough-shod over Indiana, 32-21, Nebraska beat Iowa State, 26-0, Michigan blanked Michigan State, 20-0, and Illinois swamped Butler, 67-0.

In the south, a fast-moving Vanderbilt eleven trimmed Purdue, 26-0, Alabama chipped Mississippi State, 21-6, North Carolina slammed South Carolina, 18-6, North Carolina State shaded Clemson, 7-6, Auburn defeated Tulane, 27-13 and William & Mary beat Vip, 21-7.

Texas Christian looked like the class of the Southwest with a 13-6 triumph over Arkansas. Texas A. & M. blanked Texas Tech 19-0, and Tulsa trounced Oklahoma, 23-0.

On the coast, Washington and Southern California deadlocked in a scoreless tie, Santa Clara trimmed Stanford, 14-6, and Washington State stopped University of Oregon, 7-0.

Junior High Teams To Tangle Twice

Two games have been scheduled this fall in the Johnny Appleseed-John Simpson football rivalry, the first on Oct. 16 in the afternoon and the second Nov. 6 at night Both games will be at the high school stadium.

Following schedules for the two schools were announced today by Athletic Director Harry Mehock:

SIMPSON

Oct. 7—at Madison.
Oct. 16—Appleseed.
Oct. 21—Galion.
Act. 28—at Shelby
Nov. 6—Appleseed.

APPLESEED

Oct. 7—at Galion.
Oct. 16—Simpson.
Oct. 24—Shelby.
Oct. 28—Galion.
Nov. 6—Simpson.

Lost: One Ohio Football Scout

COLUMBUS—(AP)—It looks like Ohio State university's footballers will concentrate on offense the next couple of days—whether they like it or not—as they prepare for their game here Saturday with the University of Southern California Trojans.

Any hope of schooling the Bucks in defensive tactics for use against the Trojans was shattered for a few days at least when Paul Brown learned yesterday that Scout William (Tippy) Dye was delayed en route home from the west coast by cancellations of his airplane reservation.

Dye, armed with notes, charts and diagrams of Southern Cal's 0-0 game with Washington Saturday, was "grounded" in Seattle and wasn't expected home with his report on the Trojans' touchdown strategy until Tuesday night.

Form Players Hit Bad Day

Find College Football Winners Hard to Pick.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK—(AP)—As subtle as a dollar alarm clock is the impression that this football season will be one without form.

This view isn't caused by the early defeats already pasted to the records of Minnesota, Texas, Notre Dame, Louisiana State, Fordham and other annual contenders for recognition. Rather, it's the variance in the play of a club from one week to the next.

Louisiana State pushed over Texas A & M on September's last Saturday but was a push-over for Rice in October's opener. Pittsburgh was a 50 to 7 victim of Minnesota one week but a 20 to 7 master of Southern Methodist the next. And the Gophers followed their lop-sided win by losing to the Iowa Pre-Flight Cadets, 7 to 6.

The lack of consistency is attributed by numerous coaches to a lack of adequate reserves because of the war's manpower demands and the use of freshmen.

For the third straight week the Iowa Cadets of Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman will tangle with Big Ten opposition this Saturday. This time it will be Michigan, already the conquerer of the Great Lakes squad.

Princeton, spilled by little Williams, and Navy move into the New York Yankees stadium, and Army, safely past Lafayette, is host to Cornell, which lost for the first time in six contests to Colgate, 18 to 6.

The midwest offers the Stanford at Notre Dame battle plus the appearance of Southern California, held to a scoreless draw by Washington, at Columbus. Wisconsin, which got four touchdowns in one period against Marquette, collides with equally unbeaten Missouri at Madison.

In the south, Florida engages Auburn, and Georgia, hoping that Frankie Sinkwich will be back to par, goes against Mississippi, while the area's big game is the meeting of Louisiana State and Mississippi State.

Tennessee, which all but annihilated Fordham, 40 to 14, picks on little Dayton. Texas has its annual scrimmage with Oklahoma. Pacific Coast interest will be centered on the Oregon State-U. C. L. A. battle.

Need Only One More Victory Over Yanks

McCarthy Depends On Red Ruffing To Keep New York In Running

By LEO H. PETERSEN

NEW YORK—(UP)—The red hot St. Louis Cardinals send their rookie pitching star, Johnny Beazley, against the New York Yankees today in an effort to win the 1942 world series.

Needing only one more victory to capture the title that looked hopelessly out of their reach two months ago, the Cardinals had to beat big Red Ruffing to complete in five games one of sports' major upsets. And if they do, neither the sixth nor the seventh games scheduled for St. Louis Wednesday and Friday will be necessary.

Ruffing beat the Cardinals in the first game, 7 to 4, and Beazley, who will be pitching his last game for the duration, put the Cardinals back on the right foot by winning the second, 4 to 3. Beazley is scheduled to join the marines as soon as the world series is over.

From the way those Red Birds have been playing ball it may be over today. Up until yesterday's game, they had been winning on the breaks. But then they won the fourth game, before the largest crowd in world series history, after they had handed the Yankees the tying run.

Giving the Yankees a break almost always has been fatal, but the Cardinals were a good enough ball club to overcome it. They had their leading pitcher knocked out of the box and committed an error which permitted the Yankees to tie the score, but it didn't unsettle the National league champions.

They kept driving—and running —until they triumphed by a score of 9 to 6.

The Yankees are in a hole. Not many teams have overcome a 3 to 1 deficit to win a world series and the Bronx bombers don't appear good enough to do it. Red Ruffing is their hope today. If he can't come through, the Yankees, for the first time since 1926, will have lost a world series.

Few people figured the Cardinals had any business in the series. A record crowd of 69,902 — breaking the Saturday mark of 69,123—sat in on a demonstration that showed why they were there.

A lot of ball clubs would become tense and crack after losing a five-run lead behind their pitching ace as the Cardinals did yesterday, but Manager Billy Southworth doesn't have that kind of a club.

The Cards gave Morton Cooper a five-run lead with a six-run, six-hit fourth-inning rally. Cooper, who was knocked out of the box in the first game and had yielded a run in the first inning yesterday, allowed the Yankees to get four of them back in the sixth. Charley Keller's second series home run being the big blow. Cooper then was taken out and his successor, Harry Gumbert, was the victim of a wild throw to first base by Whitey Kurowski and the Yankees eventually got the runner around to tie the score.

But it didn't bother the Cardinals. They came back in the seventh to break a tie with two runs and that was the ball game. They didn't need the run they picked up in the ninth.

Max Lanier, who came on to hold the Yankees off in the last three innings, was credited with the victory by the official scorers. He was not in the game officially, however, when the Cardinals put on their winning rally in the seventh. Howie Pollet had pitched one ball to end the Yankee uprising in the sixth and under old scoring rules would have been the winning pitcher.

Atley Donald, Yankee righthander, was the loser. He had replaced Hank Borowy, the Yankee rookie ace during the Cardinals' third-inning rally.

In addition to setting a new attendance record, the fourth game also set a new world series record for a single game's receipts. The receipts totaled $269,408 of which $137,398.08 went to the players' pool—now completed—and $132,009.92 to the U. S. O., chief beneficiary of this first wartime world series since 1919.

Mayer Takes County Title

Wins Tournament With Six-Stroke Margin.

The "Mayer of Stocking Avenue" is the new Richland county golf champion today. Joe Mayer, Coolridge champion and former Possum Run golf king, won the county title yesterday at Westbrook country club with a consistent 76-76—152 total.

His morning round, played in the rain, was little less than sensational as he shot a 37-39, four over par.

Joe had a six-stroke lead on his cousin, Al Hager, the defending champion, who came in with 79-79 —158 for second place.

Third was Gene Zediker, Westbrook champion, with a 159, while Bill Jacobs was fourth with 160, and Adam Brandt fifth with 164.

White Sox Depend On Lyons Again

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Ted Lyons, veteran White Sox pitcher, will try to clinch the city series for the Sox tonight and run his personal victory string over the Cubs to seven.

Lyons won the opener last week with a three hit verdict over Bill Lee, his opponent tonight. That victory was supposed to have been a farewell performance for the veteran who reports soon for active duty in the marine corps. Jimmy Dykes, Sox manager, however, called on Lyons again in an effort to end the series tonight. The Sox lead the series three games to one.

The Cubs unleashed a 12 hit attack against Thornton Lee and Bucky Ross yesterday to win 5 to 3. Clyde McCullough, Bruin catcher, paced the attack by hitting three singles and scoring twice.

Hiram Bithorn allowed the Sox eight hits but kept them under control until the last inning when they scored twice.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

FEDERATED WOMEN'S CLUBS START AGLION SEASON WITH RECEPTION

GALION—The home of Mrs. F. C. McGaughy was the scene of the opening of the club season when the annual reception of the Federation of Women's clubs was held there recently. Mrs. McGaughy is the president of the Federation.

Mrs. Robert Moulton, a former Cleveland newspaper columnist spoke to the group on the subject of "Nutrition and Food Economy," as part of the program which is laid down and required by the government.

During the musical portion of the program Lewis Girton sang several solos and Mrs. Gerald Bonnar also presented two vocal solos. Mrs. Donald Townsend was the accompanist for both. A social hour was enjoyed after which Mrs. McGaughy assisted by Mrs. Donald Pounder served a luncheon.

Rev. Philip Auer, pastor of the Peace Lutheran church opened the 19th consecutive year of evening services at the church Sunday night when he spoke on the topic "Hearing the Voice of the Lord."

The evening services will continue every Sunday night until next Easter. Music will be provided by the choir under the direction of Mrs. R. M. Pounder.

News In Ashland County Courts

ASHLAND—In the divorce suit of Eva Gertrude Burkey against John Wilfred Burkey the defendant has been ordered to pay $4 per week support.

A divorce has been granted in Ashland common pleas court to Richard Beard from Maxine Beard on grounds of gross neglect and extreme cruelty. Custody of two children was given the plaintiff with the defendant being given right to visit them at reasonable times and with her parents permitted to bring them to their home over the week-end or short periods not oftener than once a month.

Sale of real estate has been approved in the partition suit of Jennie Ransom against Lincoln Cummings. The property was purchased for $3,250 by Leo and Laura Derr.

CARRIERS FETED

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus newspaper carrier boys experienced the thrill of eating in the mess hall with soldiers of the 753rd Engineers' batallion at Camp Millard Friday night as the highlight of National Newspaper boys' week.

As a feature of the meeting, boys who have achieved the designated goal in the sale of war savings stamps and bonds, were presented with pins and medals by Maj. W. L. Urich of the Engineers. Lt. Col. Lester Meek spoke to the boys and congratulated them on their achievement.

40 CERTIFIED

BUCYRUS—Names of 16 Crawford county violators of the 40-mile speed regulation as set up formerly by the OPA, have been certified to the Crawford county ration board with orders to refuse tires, tubes and recaps to the violators. To be certified in the future will be all persons reported traveling in excess of 35 miles per hour.

STARTS 48TH SEASON

BUCYRUS—One of the city's oldest women's clubs, the "Crocus club" entered upon its 48th season last week when Mrs. W. P. Newman entertained members at a luncheon at her home, a custom of the incoming president.

BURIAL PLANNED FOR MRS. LINK

GALION—The body of Mrs. Anthony B. Link, 74, of 216 North Liberty street, was to be placed in a mausoleum here following services which were conducted last week at Dearborn, Mich.

Mrs. Link died at Dearborn while visiting there with her husband at the home of her son Frank. She was a native of Vincennes, Ind., and had lived here since 1894. Four grandchildren survive besides her husband and son.

BACK AT POST

BUCYRUS — Secretary E. B. Hagaman of the Bucyrus Y. M. C. A. has returned from Findlay where he attended the monthly meeting of secretaries of the northwest district.

As a representative of the national council, Secretary Hagaman addressed the group, outlining events of interest during the coming season which will be highlighted by the national council meeting in Cleveland, Oct. 29-Nov. 1.

DENIES CHARGE

BUCYRUS — Charged with breaking and entering the home of Mrs. Flora Mader near Galion last week, Ray Balliet of Galion entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned Saturday and was bound over to the grand jury. He was released under $100 bond.

CRESTLINE — Earl Fletcher, who is receiving training at the Great Lakes Naavl Training station, is spending a nine-day furlough with his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fletcher and family.

CADET PEAT

LIEUT. GARBER

Through an error in identification of pictures the above photos were reversed in the Sunday edition of the News Journal. Cadet Frank W. Peat was killed in an airplane accident at the army's advanced flying school at Columbus, Miss., and funeral services were held yesterday at the Bellville Methodist church. Lieut. Clark M. Garber, jr., recently went through a hair-raising experience while flying a bomb-laden flying fortress through clouds over England. The story of how he saved his plane and its crew when another plane turned on them was told in a graphic letter to his father Clark M. Garber of Butler.

SHELBY CHURCH 50 YEARS OLD

St. Mark's Congregation Hears Bishop During Anniversary Service.

SHELBY — Members of St Mark's Episcopal congregation gathered at the church on Sunday to hear the Rt. Rev. B. D. Tucker, D D., of Cleveland, bishop of Ohio, and mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of St. Mark's church in Shelby.

Rev. R. F. McGregor, pastor of the church, took part in the ceremonies and introduced the bishop

The original chapel of St. Mark's church was built during 1892 and the cornerstone was officially laid on Sept. 6, 1892.

This edifice was built at the corner of Whitney and Water street. In 1925 the building was moved to the corner of Gamble street and Whitney avenue, the present site. It was enlarged to accommodate the growing congregation.

FACES CHARGE

Ex-Constable Accused of Shooting at Ex-Wife.

GALION — Daniel C. Barrett, former Polk township constable, was bound over to the Crawford county grand jury under $5,000 bond on charges of shooting with intent to kill.

The charge which was heard in Mayor William Amann's court Saturday morning, was preferred by Mrs. Hazel Barrett, who recently obtained a divorce from him.

Barrett was arrested Friday night at Mrs. Barrett's home on Charles street, where she charged he had threatened her with a shotgun. The gun was fired, shooting holes in the refrigerator, officers said.

PLAN MEETING

Ashland Schoolmasters Will Convene This Week.

ASHLAND — The Ashland County Schoolmasters will meet Thursday at 4:30 p. m. at the office of County Superintendent V. B. Moffett.

After adjournment for dinner they will reconvene at 7:30 p. m. to hear an address by C. G. Keck, of the State Department of Education. He will discuss the Pupil Guidance program.

Music teachers of the county schools will meet in Supt. Moffett's office Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. for a discussion of plans for music programs for the schools of the county.

A Fighting Nation Must Have Prompt Efficient Freight Transportation

There are tremendous opportunities to serve the War effort of America in the civilian positions of—

Truck Drivers, Freight Dock Workers, Helpers and Handlers.

This advertisement has been placed and paid for by the Truck Drivers Union, No. 40, A. F. of L. for the double purpose of increasing our service to the expanding war effort and to provide more Mansfield and Richland County men with well paid, steady employment in this community.

Through our business office we have immediate openings in Mansfield for upwards of 50 men as truck drivers, dock workers and handlers. These jobs are under union agreements with responsible employers providing good equipment in proper condition.

Former union men and men from other fields of work are encouraged to respond to this notice. The only restriction is against men now engaged in war work.

This proposition is not one which involves registering for later call or for future reference. This is for immediate employment.

When you go to work, you will either be taking the place of a man gone to the service or filling a new position opened by expanded war work.

Ages 18 up. American citizens only.

SCRAP SALVAGE ACHIEVES ITS DESIRED RESULT

But Steel Mills Are Unable To Meet Demands of War and Civil Needs.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Stocks generally remained on the upward trail in today's early market proceedings.

At a fairly active opening fractional gainers included Bethlehem, American Telephone, Western Union, Chrysler, General Electric, Woolworth, and Yellow Truck.

Boardrooms scanned the survey of the magazine "Steel" which said this industry continued unable to meet the unprecedented demand imposed by war and essential civilian needs notwithstanding output was being maintained at the highest rate possible.

The review indicated that "early reports of progres indicate that the nation-wide scrap drive is achieving results and effects are being felt in numerous areas where receipts are sensibly increased, easing the situation and in some cases providing sufficient for small accumulations."

OHIO'S HEALTH HOLDS UP WELL IN WAR STRAIN

Federal Officials Find State Situation Good, Plenty of Doctors Available.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Ohio is a bright spot on the nation's health map.

Government officials surveying medical needs in war time said the situation in the state was good despite increased population and the entry of doctors into the fighting services.

They added that there was little to worry about unless there was an unexpected call for great numbers of doctors and dentists in the army and the navy. There have been only a few isolated complaints by communities where doctors have joined up.

But the number of medical men in the services is small compared with the number practicing in the state. Of a total of nearly 9,100, only 1,814 are serving with the army or the navy.

Ohio has 2,261 doctors under 35 years old and 2,270 between 35 and 45. The older men aren't expected to be needed in military service even if there is a further call and it has been suggested that there are hundreds of retired physicians available for civilian work in an emergency.

The latter, officials said, are ready to return to practice whenever necessary to provide adequate medical services for the civilian population.

Some Ohio communities have an over-supply of doctors who can be shifted to any towns threatened with a shortage.

There are, however, no really bad spots in the state, said an official who asked that his name not be used. He explained that the only current problem was one of proper distribution and there are enough doctors for this.

The war manpower commission and the United States public health service estimated that more than 300 communities needed additional medical services but officials insisted that none of the problem centers was in Ohio.

"There have been one or two protests in Ohio communities where doctors left to serve with the military forces, but this situation can be met easily by proper shifting of doctors from other places with more than ample medical services," one official commented.

Paul V. McNutt, chief of the manpower commission, said the agency's procurement and assignment section was surveying requirements of the civilian population and was prepared to cooperate in maintaining adequate medical personnel throughout the country.

MINERS AWAIT LEWIS MOVE ON POSSIBLE BOLT

2,800 Delegates Arrive For Convention; Demand Mapped For CIO Loan Payment.

(By International News Service)

CINCINNATI — Twenty-eight hundred delegates to the United Mine Workers Union convention gathered in Cincinnati today awaiting a cue from their leader, John L. Lews, whether to vote an open break with the CIO.

Ora Gasaway, president of District 50 of the miners and a right-hand man of Lewis, predicted that the U. M. W. convention, which opens tomorrow, would settle the bitter controversy between Lewis and the CIO, which Lewis himself founded in 1936.

The UMW, it was learned, will pass a resolution demanding that the CIO repay it $1,600,000 which the UMW loaned the CIO in the days of the drives to organize steel and automobile workers. The UMW, which stopped paying dues to the CIO in February, has been declared by the CIO to be delinquent and not in good standing. But whether the miners will bolt now or put the question up to the CIO convention in November depended on Lewis.

Delegates to the UMW, who wore convention badges bearing Lewis' picture, were puzzled over the future but it was apparent that they were ready to follow Lewis.

Gasaway's District 50 held its annual convention today. District 50, whose secretary is Kathryn Lewis, daughter of the mine union czar, has organized every field from perfume stores to agriculture, including munitions, chemical, salt, wood, paper, aluminum, magnesium, metal, oil, electric workers, and chrome miners and dairy farmers.

Lewis, who criticized President Roosevelt's foreign policies prior to Pearl Harbor, was also expected to pledge full UMW support of the war effort.

Resolutions to be considered by the convention were expected to call for a $2-a-day wage increase and better provisions for men drafted into the army.

Also to be considered was the appeal of Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes to lengthen the work week of miners from five to six days.

Lewis, it was declared, will report that there are now supplies of coal above ground that will last from 42 to 163 days. He will state that the country will have plenty of coal with a five-day week. However, he will offer to let the miners work six days a week, if necessary.

INVESTIGATING DEATHS OF 10

U. S. Seeks Cause of Plane Crash Saturday in Newfoundland Bay.

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK—Preliminary investigation was under way today into the crash of an airplane carrying 37 persons, including military and government officials, 10 of whom were killed and eight injured, at Botwood, Newfoundland.

The casualties were revealed by the eastern defense command and first army on the basis of information forwarded by the American consulate at St. John's, N. F., to the state department in Washington.

Government officials who were passengers aboard the plane included Louis Galantiere and Edward S. Mason of the board of analysts, department of strategic services, Washington, D. C., but so far as could be determined none with government connections, excepting military officials, was among the dead and injured. Five officers, including Lieut. Col. James Edward Whittaker of Worcester, Mass., were among the fatalities.

The official announcement stated merely that the crash occurred between 5 and 6 p. m. Saturday, that the hull of the plane had been split in the fall and that the damaged craft "was towed to shallow water for salvaging operations," an indication that the craft had plunged into Trinity Bay off Botwood.

The injured included 2nd Lieut. Richard W. Bridgeman, Coply, Ohio.

'All-Out For Victory' Theme of AFL Parley

TORONTO, Ont. — (INS) — With "all-out for victory" in the war as its keynote, the 62nd annual convention of the American Federation of Labor assembled in Toronto today with about 600 delegates from the United States and Canada in attendance.

The "most momentous" convention in the history of the AFL was the way William Green, its president, characterized it.

Green said he expects the two-week convention to do a number of things, including:

1—Take a firm, uncompromising stand against any strikes as long as the war lasts.

2—Vote full support to President Roosevelt in his efforts to stabilize the cost of living.

3—Serve notice on the world that the AFL "unflinchingly" will postpone and put aside for the duration many of its long standing programs for social and economic reform.

UNDER GUARD

Nerve Specialist Linked to Slaying of Friend.

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— Dr. Frank Rowland Starkey, 69-year-old Philadelphia nerve specialist, was under guard in a hospital today while detectives prepared to question him in the slaying of Charles Vosburg, 50, his friend of many years.

Vosburg was shot and stabbed to death while he shelled peas yesterday in the apartment of Mrs. Mary Dalton, 52, whom the physcian is said to have recently introduced to his friend. Coroner's Detective John Gross said that Mrs. Dalton told him that Dr Starkey entered the kitchen and opened fire without warning.

George Schneider, Mansfield barber, thinks maybe there's something to this thought telepathy theory. Schneider was telling a customer Saturday night that he'd like to see his former barber partner, Capt. Harry P. Snyder, before he went overseas, but, Schneider added, "he wrote that he's awfully busy now and there's not much chance of getting to see him." A few minutes later Capt. Snyder walked into the shop. Stationed at Camp Bowie, Tex., he had a five-day leave and arrived in Mansfield Saturday night. He will return to Texas tonight and expects to go overseas soon. He was one of the first Mansfielders to go into the service as an officer of Battery D of the old National Guard unit here.

GO TO PARLEY

Commissioners, Engineers To Be at Roads Convention.

Richland county commissioners and road department will send four representatives to Columbus Tuesday to attend an Ohio Good Roads Federation meeting.

Attending from Mansfield will be County Commissioners C. L. Mitchell and Guy Stewart, County Engineer Howard Sword and Walter E. Rusk, assistant engineer.

County road officials, township trustees, rural letter carriers, and school bus drivers have been invited to the session. Spokesmen for the highway industry will discuss the future of the highway program and tell Ohioans who use the roads a great deal what they can expect in 1943.

WICKARD ASKS BOLSTERING OF RURAL LABOR

Urges Men Move From 'Slum' Acreage to Larger, More Efficient Farms.

PEORIA, Ill.— (INS) —Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today suggested that 2,000,000 underemployed "slum" farmers be used on larger more efficient farms to help solve the nation's wartime labor shortage.

Addressing the national Catholic rural life conference, Wickard said that in the face of labor and machinery shortages this year, "American farmers must produce more than at any time in our history" to meet war food demands.

"With our army growing at the present rate," Wickard said, "the drain on agricultural manpower will become more and more serious."

He added that the only reserves of farm manpower are the people already on the land who are not making full use of their time and ability.

There are about 2,000,000 underemployed farm families, living in poverty because they have not enough land to work, Wickard said, who could be producing many times as much as they are at present.

At the same time, he added, "there is danger that some large rich middle-western farms may lie idle next year through lack of someone to work them."

"As a war emergency measure," Wickard declared, "we must help families get off crowded marginal land and onto land where their work will go for many times as much.

"We must get them on good land as tenants, or where possible through tenant-purchase, as owners."

"If seems to me," Wickard added, "this situation offers an opportunity to abolish the rural slums of America."

Wickard said that the population shift cannot be treated as a temporary war measure, for if an attempt was made to shift farmers back to poor crowded land after the war they might be "even worse off than they are now."

Wickard also said that, as a means for creating more farm labor, transportation of normal migratory farmers would be undertaken by the agriculture department.

DIES AT AGE 70

Two Army Boards Open Inquiry In Akron Plane Crash

AKRON — (U.P.) — Two army air force investigating boards today conducted an investigation of the army medium bomber crash near the Akron airport which killed five army officers and two enlisted men.

The twin-motored bomber, on a routine flight, plummeted to earth and burned shortly after "one of its motors began to sputter," witnesses said. The crash occurred Saturday night shortly after the plane took off from Akron airport.

A detachment of Ohio state guardsmen patrolled the wreckage while investigating boards from Baer field, Ind., the plane's base, and Wright and Patterson fields questioned witnesses in an effort to learn the cause.

Those who perished in the burning wreckage were identified as Lieut. Claude R. Jackson, 22, of Akron; Lieut. Ralph C. Shrigley, 23, of Rootstown (Portage county); Lieut. Albert L. Spickers, Midland Park, N. J; Lieut. Thomas Schofield, Providence, R. I.; Lieut. William Holm, Minneapolis, Minn.; Sgt. John T. McDonald, Richmond Hill, N. Y., and James Golby, Allentown, Pa.

PLANES, TANKS STORMING REDS AT STALINGRAD

Nazis Hurl Terrific Drive as Soviets Stage Flanking Advance.

periled the whole German position.

It was the 42nd day of the great battle and the Russians were killing more than 4,000 Germans a day and grinding up their trucks, tanks and planes at a proportionate rate. Commissar Karpov said it was difficult to tell how the battle would end, but it was certain the defenders would never quit.

Pravda said Hitler's plans had called for a swift subjugation of the city, and an advance against Moscow and the oil wells of Baku on the Caspian sea, but the resistance of Stalingrad had made that impossible this year.

Reports from the Caucasus indicated that the Germans had abandoned large scale attacks in the Mozdok area, where they were trying to crash through to the Crozny oil fields.

A week ago, it was reported, the Germans threw 250 tanks into action in the Grozny area. Russian mines, artillery and anti-tank guns wrecked scores of their tanks and held their advance to almost nothing.

Around Voronezh, 350 miles northwest of Stalingrad, Russian forces fighting in the outskirts of an inhabited locality killed 400 of the enemy, disabled 11 tanks and burned six, the noon communique asserted. A total of 2,200 Germans have been reported killed in that area in the last 24 hours.

Pravda said violent air battles raged on the approaches of Leningrad, and that the Russians had shot down 48 German planes in the last 48 hours. The Germans, Pravda said, were systematically bombing Soviet positions in the Leningrad and adjacent Sinyavino areas, obviously in preparation for a new onslaught. It has been under siege for more than a year.

Soviet marines attacking southeast of Novorossisk in the Caucasus have driven the Germans and Rumanians from 14 important heights, captured several inhabited localities and killed more than 1,000 Germans.

The Russians abandoned Novorossisk more than two weeks ago, and since then the Germans have been trying to drive down the coastal road that lead to Batum on the Turkish border.

Drop 5,000 Tons of Bombs During Month

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—The admiralty announced today that three enemy supply ships had been torpedoed in the Mediterranean, two by British submarines and one by a Greek undersea craft.

LONDON—(U.P.)—The air ministry reported today that the Royal Air Force dropped 5,000 tons of bombs on Axis targets in Europe in 10 night atacks last month—an average of 500 tons of high explosives per attack.

The ministry said that the RAF carried out a total of 16 night attacks and 11 day attacks during September.

The RAF offensive, the ministry said, cost 194 planes over Europe while 20 Nazi machines were shot down in the operations and another 25 over Britain.

The RAF was credited with sinking or damaging 40 Axis ships in all theaters of war, including submarines, E-boats and anti-aircraft ships.

"Enemy aircraft flying singly or in small numbers," said the ministry, "were over the country on 15 nights but did not for the most part penetrate far inland. There was slight daylight activity on 22 days, chiefly in the coastal districts of south and southeast England."

The ministry said that U. S army air force bombers attacked targets in Nazi occupied areas three times during the month.

Bomb Axis Convoy Off Italian Coast

CAIRO —(INS)— British planes that swept across the Mediterranean were declared today to have bombed a southbound enemy convoy 35 miles southeast of Cape Maria Di Leuca, on the heel of the Italian boot.

A British communique said the attackers saw their bombs hit the starboard side of one merchant ship which also was struck amidships by an aerial torpedo.

Poor visibility made it impossible to assess the damage, the communique said.

Earlier it was revealed that two large Axis cargo ships had been set afire by bombs dropped by U. S. Army planes in a second attack against enemy shipping in Navarino Bay, Greece.

The blood contains about 11,000 white corpuscles per cubic millimetre.

advance supported by large-scale air action.

Details were lacking concerning the manner of advance beyond Efogi where the mountain track leading to Kokoda, midway between the main Jap base at Buna and Port Moresby, divides into two trails. One route to Kokoda, 60 miles from Port Moresby, leads through the Myola lakes district and the other goes by way of the village of Kagi.

Although the trail through the mountains is winding and distances are considerably less by air, it was estimated that the Australians were within a dozen miles of Kokoda. The hamlet of Kagi can be reached from Efogi in three hours.

Allied fighters and bombers kept up constant strafing and bombing attacks against key points against the Japanese line of retreat.

Storage huts and other Jap installations were destroyed in attacks from the air while the Australians taking part in the ground campaign captured further large stores and equipment which the Japs were forced to abandon.

A force of Allied medium bombers meanwhile ranged out over the Solomon islands again to attack the Jap-held airdrome on the island of Buka, just north of Bougainville, at night.

U. S. Pressure Balks Jap Blitzkrieg Plans

WASHINGTON —(INS)—Increasing American pressure against Japanese invasion bases in the Aleutians and Solomons today provided a partial explanation to the mystery of Nippon's failure to resume its blitzkrieg offensive on schedule.

Powerful units of the Japanese fleet are believed to be prowling northeast of the Solomons in the hope of catching U. S. forces off guard, but they apparently are taking no reckless chances.

According to navy men, America's startling offensive successes in the Aleutians and Solomons, coupled with mounting Jap ship losses, have placed a severe strain on enemy sea communications and have prevented concentration of Jap sea power.

Although reports have been current for weeks that Japan has been gathering warships and transports in its mandated islands, no large sea invasion force has been sighted since the 80-ship enemy Armada was smashed at Midway.

This is the best proof of the accuracy of American army and navy reports that more than 400 Nipponese ships have been sunk or damaged since the outbreak of war, including 115 credited to long-range U. S submarines.

Jap forces at Kiska now face annihilation under the guns and bombs of low-flying U. S army planes unless the Nipponese move in with carriers and naval units to challenge the American forces in the north Pacific.

DEATH CLAIMS J. L. HARTMANN

School Teacher For 44 Years, Active Church Worker, Dies at Home Today.

mann was a member of the board of stewards of the Mansfield First Methodist church for 25 years and at the time of his death was a member of the board of trustees. He was, for years, financial secretary for the church and more recently was recording steward and treasurer of benevolence also of the relief fund and Men's Bible class.

Born on a farm in Ashland county, Aug. 27, 1875, Mr. Hartmann spent his early life in that vicinity and began his teaching, at the age of 21, in the same school district that he had attended when a boy.

He came to Mansfield in 1910 to accept a position at Newman school where he taught six years. He was appointed supervising principal of Hedges school upon the retirement of D. F. Shafer and he served there 16 years until appointed principal of John Simpson Junior high school where he continued four years. He completed 44 years of service in the school room at the time of his retirement in 1938 after being supervisor of study at Mansfield Senior high school two years.

Affiliated with all Masonic bodies in Mansfield, Mr. Hartmann was also a member of the Consistory at Dayton, representing the 32nd degree. He had been vice president of the district chapter association and held a record for conferring the Malta degree in the Mansfield Commandery on every candidate the past seven years.

A past high priest of the chapter, Mr. Hartmann was past thrice illustrious master of the council and past eminent commander of Mansfield Commandery. He was appointed past high priest in the state association in Akron in 1925. He was also president of the Angell Refuge.

Mr Hartmann is survived by his widow, a son Robert O. Hartmann, stationed at Camp Picket, Va., and one daughter, Maxine Lucile, at home. One daughter, Josephine, died in 1926. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Hartmann of Savannah, also survives with two brothers, John of Ashland, Raymond of Dayton, and five sisters, Mrs Mary Gibson, Savannah; Mrs. Carrie Harmon, Mrs. Bertha Livingston and Mrs. Olive Shriver of Ashland county and Mrs. Minnie Ryan of Ashland.

The body has been removed to the Wappner funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TRUCKER OFFERS TO BE HANGMAN

Can't Serve In War, He's Willing To Kill Traitor.

DETROIT—(INS)—A 28-year-old laundry truck driver today applied for the job of hangman at the scheduled Nov. 13 execution of Max Stephan, who was convicted of treason.

The applicant, whose offer probably will not be accepted by federal authorities because they want a "professional executioner," is Irving Greenberg, 28.

"I can't do anything on the other side," Greenberg said, "so I feel it is my duty to volunteer for the job of hanging a traitor to my country."

Stephan has appealed the sentence.

Willkie in Chungking, to Visit Chinese Battlefronts.

CHUNGKING —(AP)— Wendell Willkie mingled for more than four hours today with students and faculty members at four Chungking government educational institutions, reiterating his message of anti-imperialism" and receiving a spontaneous welcome taht left him visibly affected.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that arrangements had been made for Willkie to visit the Chinese battlefront.

Yesterday he had a busy day, touring Chungking's war industries, meeting political leaders, including the Communist General Chou En-Lai, and finally having a three and one-half hour heart-to-heart talk with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

NEW BALKAN WAR LOOMING

Tension Grows Extreme Between Rumania and Bulgaria.

ANKARA, Turkey (delayed)—(AP)—Allied quarters received reports today that territorial differences between Rumania and Hungary over Transylvania had reached such a state that Rumanian officials in Bucharest were expecting war with their neighboring Axis satellite.

Hungary and Rumania have been at loggerheads since Hitler dictated the transfer of a large slice of Transylvania from Rumania to Hungary in 1940.

PROMISES CUT IN PRICES OF BUTTER, CHEESE

U. S. Officials Move To Put New Controls on Wages and Living Costs.

the duration He said present regulations would be amended to limit future property transactions to bona fide sales.

There is in presently controlled rent areas, he said, a growing practice of owners forcing tenants to purchase the premises—in many cases at exorbitant prices. This practice, he said, is designed to avoid the effect of rent control and to collect from the existing tenant or a new occupant monthly installments in excess of maximum rents.

Officials said complaints have come from Mobile, Ala., Philadelphia, Portland, Ore., Detroit, and other cities having housing problems.

"This practice must cease," Henderson declared.

He said the government's objective would be to prevent owners from "dropping rental property on the market to avoid the requirements of rent control."

Officials tonight withheld interpretation of the move pending examination of the amendent to determine what, in the determination of OPA, will constitute a bona fide sale. Rent Control Director Paul A. Porter said the terms of the restriction would be announced soon.

Henderson said landlords who have raised rents since March 1, should, as patriotic citizens, make reductions to previous levels. But he warned that OPA would establish enforcement machinery "as rapidly as is administratively possible."

The hitherto exempt products to be brought under price tops are butter, cheese, evaporated and condensed, milk, eggs, poultry, flour, dry onions, potatoes, fresh and canned citrus fruits, juices, dry edible beans, cornmeal and mutton.

Authorities said no wholesale downward revision in prices of all or most of these products may be expected. They said reductions which would become effective when permanent ceilings are established, probably would be limited to butter, cheese, evaporated and condensed milk.

But, the same officials pointed out, housewives have the assurance that the prices of 90 per cent of their food budget now have been pegged and the rising cost of living braked. They said that there may be an upward revision in some prices from time to time, but that increases would not be general.

Henderson's rent control program, announced yesterday, will stabilize rents of all dwelling units in the expanded area at the level of March, 1942. That level has been in force in all but 90 defense-rental areas, where the 1941 level was used as a yardstick, since June 1.

Stabilization of wages and salaries at substantially the levels existing on Sept. 15 will be undertaken through use of the War Labor Board's present machinery, Davis said.

Vice President

Election of Harry F. Boe, former Mansfield resident, as a vice president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company in Pittsburgh was announced today. NAZIS MUTINY

More Than 3,000 Germans Reported Imprisoned In Norway.

LONDON—(AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm quoted press reports in the Swedish capital today that 3,000 to 4,000 German soldiers had been imprisoned for a mutiny at Alta in far northern Norway.

These reports said 17 German officers had been cashiered and 43 of the imprisoned soldiers sentenced to death by a military court at Harstad.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1942.

"We are fighting a people's war, and therefore we need a free, a vigilant and a well-informed press to help lead us. Now that the nation is mobilized, let us hope that the entire press will report the sober and grim facts of what we must fight and how we must fight. And until our martyrs are avenged, our Allies supported, and our army returned to peaceful employment, there is no room for hints that the fight is about over. Every man, woman and child in America will know when the fighting is at last behind us."—William Douglas, associate justice of the United States Supreme Court.

Stabilization Program Under Way

WHILE all of America's 130,000,000 people will be rather directly affected by some phase of the new wage, salary, price and rent control action taken by government, only a small percentage may immediately note a change from conditions to which they have become accustomed.

Freezing prices on various commodities at highest levels of the five-day period ending last Friday is announced as a temporary expedient, subject to adjustments based on showing of production costs, with some price reductions possible.

Wage and salary stabilization is left open to correction of "gross inequities or to prosecute the war more efficiently," which leaves this as a matter of administrative policy rather than an absolute "freeze," which, in some instances might work hardship on persons whose wages do not meet increased living costs.

Rent control means no more than nationwide application of restrictions already in effect in many areas, designed to prevent gouging by some landlords who seek to take advantage of housing shortages in war industry centers.

Ban on increase of salaries which are already above the $5,000 mark is eased by the exception of cases of "promotion to more difficult or responsible work, and the limit of $25.-000 on salaries, after payment of taxes, appears to be more designed to establish a wartime principle than to fix an actual top-salary figure, with President Roosevelt taking the initiative by voluntarily placing himself within that limit. Now if a few highly-paid motion picture magnates, and some other recipients of high-bracket incomes, will do likewise, the "equality of sacrifice" idea will be given considerable impetus.

Appointment of James F. Byrnes, who retires from the Supreme Court to become director of economic stabilization, and prompt action by Price Administrator Leon Henderson under the new set-up, inspires confidence that long-delayed action toward curbing inflation is now to be taken—and it may be hoped that this confidence will not be shaken by any further political dilly-dallying.

Sale To Minors Serious Offense

BRIEF suspension of licenses for liquor dealers found guilty of charges of selling intoxicants to minors may impress some people as being a rather inadequate handling of cases of that sort.

Sale to minors is clearly prohibited by state laws and liquor board regulations and it may be assumed that all licensees who are able to read and understand English are familiar with this provision of law.

Locally there has been no appearance of interest in enforcing the law against sale to minors, or the equally clear ban against children being permitted to congregate in night clubs or other liquor sales places.

If, as it appears, some night club operators became habitual violators of the law against selling to minors, or allowing minors to hang around these places of "entertainment," it might seem more logical to permanently revoke licenses of offenders.

In a recent case in Columbus, where liquor dealers were convicted in juvenile court of selling intoxicants to persons under 21, workhouse sentences were imposed, one for a year and another for six months—which goes to show that such things can be done when officials set their mind to it instead of closing their eyes to what is going on around town.

Caught In Maze of Red Tape

[illegible] OBSTACLE to progress in the war effort may [illegible] be "red tape." Able and energetic men are being [illegible] by the way they get snarled up in it when they want [illegible] doing something. Chairman Lou E. Holland of the Smaller War Plants Corporation has been telling a congressional committee how it goes.

This capable business man from Kansas City, heading a $150,000,000 outfit meant to help small business, says he discovered "some things he didn't anticipate."

He wanted his own personnel director, and picked a good man, but had to give him up because he was a lawyer, and lawyers serving in that capacity were forbidden.

Then he undertook to hire 300 top-notch mechanics but found that he couldn't have them because they were not on civil service rolls. He needed highly trained men to help train small business men in war goods manufacture, and wasn't even allowed to run newspaper ads to get them.

It really seems as if there should be somewhere, in the vast and complex Washington system, an occasional oasis of benevolent dictatorship, where practical patriots could break through the interference and get essential things done promptly.

Railroads Paying Off Debts

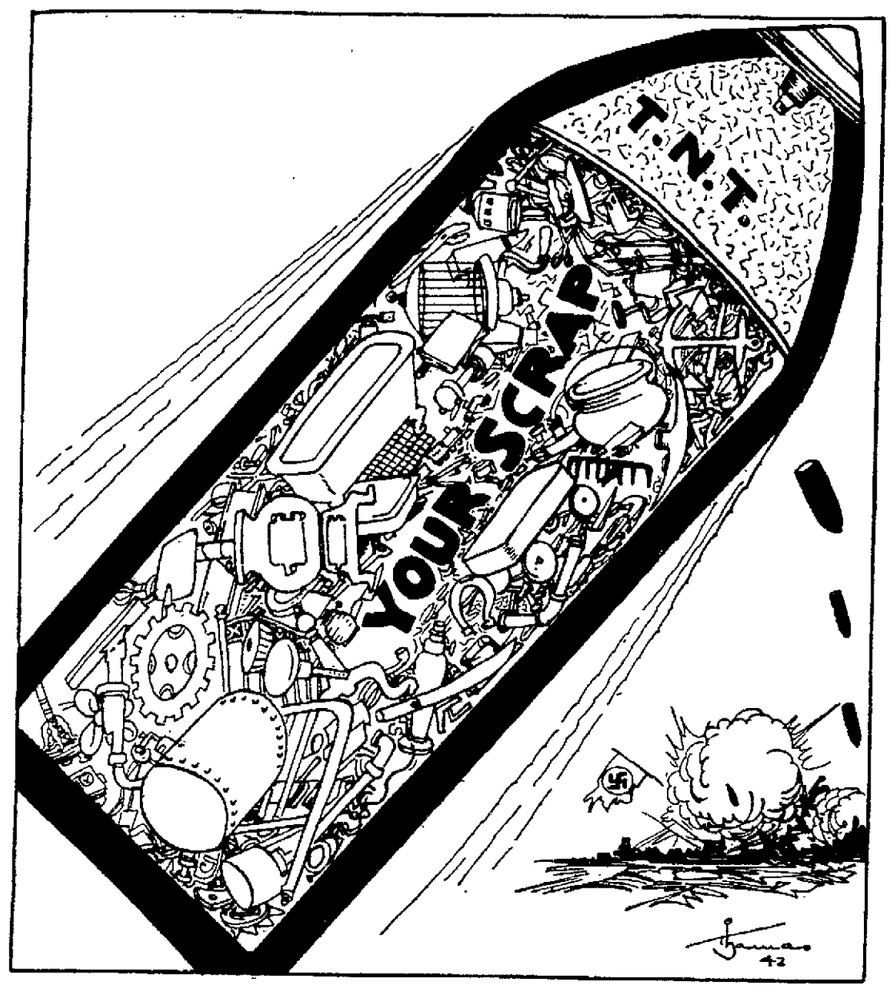
PAYING OFF DEBTS when you have spare cash is sound policy for individuals. It is also sound for railroads, and many are doing just this. The Atlantic Coast Line had twelve millions in bonds which did not fall due till 1945. These have now been called with a view to paying them off. The Boston and Albany railroad is retiring nine millions of bonds due in 1943. Last December the Santa Fe wiped out 28 millions of bonded indebtedness, which it would otherwise have had to carry and pay interest on till 1957. And there are some others.

This shows that the railroads have profited by their experience during the depression. Many which might otherwise have weathered the storm were dragged into receivership by weight of their bonded indebtedness. The roads named are evidently determined that shall not happen again.

Debts had a like depressing effect in the bad years on individuals. In these days of easy money for many, it is still worth while to remember that thrift has its points.

It's probably imagination, but that "use stamp" on the windshield seems to be chuckling.

THE STUFF THAT SHELLS ARE MADE OF



Observe Drift Toward Sales Tax

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—It is too soon to say for sure, but there has been such a decided drift toward the sales tax as a substitute for the muddled and complicated additions to the tax law now being considered by congress that it would not surprise observers to see this old hot potato finally picked up.

The treasury department has been officially opposing the sales tax ever since consideration of the revenue bill began, though it was forced to give some estimates recently to the senate finance committee. President Roosevelt has always opposed the sales tax, but has accompanied each statement, over the years and all before the present emergency, with an explanation.

This explanation was that the sales tax reduced buying power, thus tended to put a crimp in sales, and thus in turn retarded the return of prosperity. But this argument, the only one the president has ever made against the sales tax, does not apply in the present emergency, sound as it was during the NRA days.

Then the chief objective of the government was to stimulate production of all sorts, so as to provide jobs. Hence the more people could buy of every sort of a thing the production of which spelled wages, the better.

NOW the government's objective is precisely the reverse. The spur of production is being applied by the government only to things needed for the war effort. Everything else is being curtailed.

In addition the government is fighting inflation tendencies, and part of the fight is to discourage purchase of everything not absolutely necessary. The very buying power which was so essential to success in fighting depression is now—with everyone who can be used in war work employed at good wages—a threat of inflation, in that good wages encourage spending, which, with small production for consumer goods, means the buyers are bidding against each other and pushing prices up, and the value of the dollar down.

So one cannot be sure that Mr. Roosevelt would be displeased if congress should force the sales tax on the treasury as a temporary measure—to be used only for the duration. There is no doubt that the president would want it repealed, and some other form of taxation substituted, as soon as the war is well over, and the boys are back, seeking employment.

Then the need again would arise for more purchases of products so as to provide jobs in the factories, in transportation and in retailing.

The department stores, at one time the chief foes of the sales tax, now favor it because they think it probably would be less objectionable than whatever they might get in its place.

A RESOLUTION recently sent to congress by a Business Men's association in Washington calls the sales tax "the most practical way of obtaining all the necessary revenue" and adds: "A general sales tax of 15 per cent would yield a return of twelve billion dollars annually.

"If it is good psychology to sell war bonds from a ten-cent stamp upward why not collect our revenue likewise?"

Give Them a Chance

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

IT WAS ONE of those Sunday afternoons. Too foggy—and not enough gas—to go traipsing around. And your heart growing heavier with each radio broadcast, 'til you sat there in a sort of sick trance, not caring, not even hoping. Then suddenly it came.

A new orchestra over the air. Not the usual stuff with trick arrangements. Just the old melodies we all love, quietly, simply played. The songs we used to know, the peace we used to feel before the skies grew red with blood and black with fear.

Quietly, gently it came, like a friendly hand soothing desperate heart and brain. Startled, I wondered who was sending such blessed easement and from whence it came. Then, amazed, I heard the answer.

The convicts of San Quentin! Out of the saddest prison in America, hands that had known shackles were sending comfort to the world.

Yes, I've known San Quentin for many a year . . . have visited there scores of times. And I'm no sob sister about crime. There are men in that place who are wild beasts and nothing else but. They are not even fit to stay in prison: they should be confined behind insane asylum bars. Only God—and death—can give them a new chance.

But there are hundreds of other men who are no more criminal in their nature than you or I. They have made mistakes. They are paying for them . . . as perhaps you and I should pay if the judgment were equal. And for years these men have been the living dead, forgotten and despised. But now a new hope has come to them.

That hope is Warden Clinton T. Duffy. Warden Duffy came into as tough a pen as there was in America. Faced as embittered men . . . men who would have coolly murdered him out of their own dumb frustration. But instead of treating them as the tortured brutes which many of them had become, he recognized them as human beings like himself, not mass murderers and thieves but men desperately needing to win back their self-respect, to express the hope and pride which still lay in their hearts. Men who needed to be individuals, not numbers. And Warden Duffy gave them their chance. Today San Quentin no longer stinks of death; it stirs with life.

Each Sunday its musicians send their consolation and inspiration over the air to a sick world, under the leadership of Ted P. Stanich. Down by the water's edge other men labor at flesh-wracking drudgery, weaving the great steel nets that protect the Golden Gate from the enemy submarines. Back in the shops hundreds more toil eagerly at every form of defense work, and now that the forest fire season presents its yearly menace, hundreds more go out in squads and fight the flames.

Hundreds ask eagerly to gather the crops which must otherwise rot for lack of farm labor. Thousands offer themselves as suicide squads for the army and navy. And in each man's heart there is one hope—that he may so work and live that he may see the Navy "E" floating above San Quentin.

Laugh or sneer if you wish. I know these men. I know their crimes. And I know my own weakness. "But for God's help, there might go" Elsie Robinson. And my heart is behind them. They need backing like that. They need your respect in order to win back their own.

If you are great enough to feel it, and humble enough to give it, write to Warden Clinton T. Duffy. And tell him that you too hope that the nation's flag of honor may fly above the place where once men went to rot and die.

Timely Editorial

Our Lengthening Years.

The average American now has a life expectancy, says Vice President Louis I. Dublin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company in Reader's Digest, of four years more than he had a decade ago. That's nine years more than the average Italian, 16 years more than the average Jap. The average American's all-time high life expectancy of 64 years surpasses that of almost any country except Australia and New Zealand.

So much have modern medical science and sanitation added to our span, and the end is not yet. Down cancer and heart disease and the figure will be further upped to 66. Large orders, those, but science while it carries on that relentless research may meanwhile also be stretching our years, as already it has spectacularly done, by new discoveries in nutrition, the nature and functioning of the glands, and relationship of the two fields not only in treatment of disease but toward a generally greater life expectancy.—Springfield News.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

Why Call It Sunday?

It is the Christian Sabbath, the Lord's day; but its very syllables reveal for all to see that it is a name which simply was carried over from the days of worship of old Sol.

Sunday is rooted in the Anglo-Saxon Sunnandaeg, meaning sun plus day.

Prior to the death of Christ, the day consecrated to rest and religious observance was the Jewish Sabbath, or Saturday.

Shortly after the resurrection, early Christians began to assemble for prayer on Sunday because it was on this day that Christ arose.

By the fourth century Sunday as a holy day had become church law, thereafter receiving secular recognition.

Interpreting the War News

Assurance of More Aid to China Part of Willkie's Trip to Orient

—By GLENN BABB

WENDELL WILLKIE'S journey from Russia to China illustrates vividly the situation of those two allies of ours who are bearing the brunt of the Axis assault on civilization. Along the Yangtze-Kiang and Huang-Ho, as on the Volga and Don, the major armies of one of the two great aggressor powers are pinned down while the rest of us gain the time we need to prepare for the great land battle to come.

The American's route traversed the little known heart of the great Eurasian land mass, at either end of which a mighty Axis army is striving for a knockout blow.

Geographically the Russians and Chinese are standing back to back in this struggle; politically there lies between them a space as barren and impassible as the Turkestan deserts over which the good plane Tienshan (Heavenly Mountains) carried the president's envoy. Neither is able to help the other. Russia maintains painfully correct but anxious diplomatic relations with China's chief foe, Japan, for reasons which appear good and sufficient to the Kremlin and which Russia's allies understand.

Although China has declared war on Germany, she is nowhere able to strike directly at Hitler. Both Russia and China must look to other, far distant allies, America and Britain, for the help that eventually may turn their long defensive battle into the offensive that leads to victory.

WILLKIE'S journey has been described as a fact-finding mission, but it is not to be expected that he will uncover anything new to tell President Roosevelt, despite his powers of penetration and ability to grasp broad strategic problems.

His major accomplishments in Chungking should be two: Assurance to the Chinese that American help will come as soon and in as full measure as the exigencies of this global war permit, and a reminder to the American people that in China, as in Russia, we may lose the war, at least one of the battlefields on which it might be won.

There is no lack of information in Washington or London as to China's needs or the potentialities of the China war zone for eventual allied victory. But in the last few weeks the homeric defense of Stalingrad has pushed the recovery of most of Kiangsi and Chekiang into the background and the worldwide discussion of the second front—against Germany—has left little attention for the first front against Japan.

That the Chinese want assurance that they have not been forgotten can be understood. As far as America is concerned no spokesman other than the president himself can restate that promise more convincingly than the man whom 22,000,000 Americans wanted two years ago to make president.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — There has been a story going around that politics is dead for the duration. It isn't true. Politics is no more dead than women's fashions, or democracy.

That brings us right down to cases, because one of the best "political stories" circulating in Washington today centers around New York. I put "political stories" in quotes because this story is based on a lot of ifs and ands and buts. However, it's also based on a lot of solid political logic. And that's the way I'm going to pass it on.

TO SHOOT all three barrels at once, it's simply this: Thomas E. Dewey will be elected the first Republican governor of New York in 22 years; he will be nominated without much opposition, as the Republican candidate for the presidency in 1944; and the Democratic nominee opposing him then will be Wendell L. Willkie.

As for that solid political logic, here's the way the Washington observers are figuring it. (1). The split in the Democratic ranks in New York over the governorship has been irreparable. President Roosevelt, for party's sake, will make some outward show of backing the Democratic nominee, John J. Bennett, but it won't be enough. In the first place the president is really too preoccupied with war to take time out to enter a political fracas. In the second place, his one-time political side-kick, James A. Farley, is said by insiders to have carried the feud so far in the bitter-end battle for Bennett against the president's choice, Sen. James M. Mead, that the president has no alternative but to make a simple "I'll - vote - for - the - party" statement.

(2). Dewey, in spite of his youth, some previous defeats, and a few political faults, is the kind of a vote-getter the Republicans in New York have been needing for a long time.

NOW as for Willkie: (1). In spite of the tar-and-feathers and things he accumulated by shifting over to the Republican party and in spite of the fact that he led a big corporation, he has never been anything but a Democrat at heart and a liberal (if not left-wing) one at that.

(2). Although comparatively unknown nationally in 1940, when he won the Republican nomination, he has become an international figure second in stature only to the president.

(3). His trips abroad in support of the war effort and his last in particular have demonstrated that he has the confidence of President Roosevelt in this emergency to an extent that no "also-ran" has had from any president since the infancy of our democratic system.

(4). For the most part, the Republican leaders have showed little interest in cooperating with Willkie.

(5). Unless President Roosevelt runs for a fourth term, whom else are they grooming for their 1944 candidate?

Man About Manhattan

Time-Killing Habits

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — You've heard about the filing clerk who got herself a lifetime job by working out an index system so complicated that only she understood it. Now there's Billy Williams, who got himself a job with Sammy Kaye's orchestra because he's the only man who can sing "Where the Mountains Meet the Sky" the way it should be sung. Small wonder, because Billy wrote the song himself.

He's a tall, brown-eyed Texan of 28 who looks just like he should look when he sings this cowboy ballad. Before Kaye heard him singing and subsequently signed him, Billy was pretty much of an itinerant musician. He toots a capable saxophone, but the bands he worked with had a bad habit of folding up, particularly when he was a couple of thousand miles from his home town in Avery, Tex.

I'm taking Kaye's word for it that smiling Billy sings his own song best. Bing Crosby should be able to do pretty good with it, of course. But Bing's price is a little high for orchestra work.

PEOPLE go to a lot of extremes to pass the time in subways. I noticed a man filing his fingernails yesterday. He was being extremely meticulous about it, giving each finger several final touches before going on to the next. By the looks of other people's faces, I could tell they thought he was quite foppish. But I noticed this. He started filing his nails when he got on the train, and when he came to his station—which he knew without looking up for platform signs—he had just finished the tenth finger. That was his way of killing time, and he had it figured out to the second.

NEW YORK'S subways are so marvelously punctual, the trains sometimes running 90 seconds apart, that you can figure home-to-office time down to the minute. It's a great advantage in this town, so given to luncheon dates and appointments on the half-hour and quarter-hour, to be able to calculate distance and running time and wind-up within five minutes of the intended time, even though you travel five or six miles.

Women are much given to knitting and crocheting on the subways, and they, like the man filing his fingernails, get clocks in their heads. I have seen them with yarn, needles and bag spread out in a seemingly hopeless tangle, but when the train hits a certain switch, they start putting things back in the bag and just as the last scrap is tucked away, the train stops and they stand up.

You may have guessed it by now—my own favorite way of time-killing in the subways is watching people.

One-Minute Test.

1. What is the capital city of Thailand—formerly Siam?
2. Why was the name of Siam changed to Thailand?
3. What is the capital city of Turkey?

Words of Wisdom.

The crux of the present world war is faith in God and the right freely to worship Him.—Rev. Dr. Raymond C. Knox.

Since nothing is settled until it is settled right, no matter how unlimited power a man may have, unless he exercises it fairly and justly his actions will return to plague him.—Frank A. Vanderlip.

Hints on Etiquette.

If you are talking to a friend or business associate and another person wishes to speak to you, make an end of, or a pause in, your conversation and listen to what the third person has to say. It is embarrassing for this party to stand waiting for a break in the conversation and to be ignored.

One-Minute Test Answers.

1. Bangkok.
2. Thailand is the ancient name of Siam.
3. Ankara.

A Farmer's Diary

Killing Frost

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

ALL afternoon a cool wind blew from the north. It sighed through the dark green foliage of the woods and chilled the tender twigs of the young peach orchard. After sunset it grew calm. The deep amber afterglow prolonged the twilight hour—the ponderous dark-winged crane flew home, silhouetted against the crisp yellow sky. Bats beat their aimless courses among the trees and bushes of the slope.

Then darkness came slowly down and filled all the hollows of the landscape. Only the stars were keen and bright above the darkened wooded border of the valley rim. "It smells like frost," we said, and went indoors to enjoy the warmth of a furnace fire.

At early morning, the valley wore a hoary garment. An icy breath rose from the matted grass and weeds, like something tangible. The sheep walked through the pasture, mutely, in single file, and made a greener winding path. The cattle got stiffly to their feet, and stretched, yawning. White steam moved upward from where they had lain. The old bay draft horse had not ventured to sleep in so cold a bed. I saw him nestled against the old worm fence with head bent low behind the sleek top rail, and limp lower lip at rest. His short hair stood up to shield his body from the cold.

The sun, peeping through the eastern niche of the valley, was greeted by ten million tiny suns. Leaves of cucumbers and pumpkins were limp and dark. They trailed in withered, crumpling heaps along the ground. The long white fruits in many places glistened in the morning rays, like human bones.

When the frost had cleared from the quiet stalks of corn, the lifeless blades hung like shrouds. As I went out to do the morning chores, I saw the compound leaves of the black walnut tree drop from the green tender wood, and flutter down, although no slightest breeze was stirring.

CHAPTER XII

Purposely Temple was late and as she walked to the restaurant she hoped that she would like Mrs. Amory and that Mrs. Amory would not resent her. She found herself hoping fervently, too, that Jud's mother would also see him go with sadness and pride and that she would not embarrass him either with sentimentality or hysteria.

She could not imagine what Jud's mother would be like. If they liked each other, they had Jud to share. If they did not, then hours precious to both would be wasted. And Temple, shy with strangers, her shyness often mistaken for coolness, tried to think of friendly things to say to Jud's mother. She was nervous when she reached the restaurant and pressed her hands against the revolving doors.

Jud and his mother stood out as though appliqued against the background of the restaurant.

Walking toward them, Temple thought achingly, "I'm not going to like her. She's beautifully dressed in a smart dark suit and silver foxes and the black straw sailor over her short gray hair, but—but she has on too much rouge. There's something cheap about her."

Jud smiled his warm, intimate smile. He introduced them and before Temple could say anything, his mother said in a high voice, "How do you do, my dear? It was so sweet of you to want to meet me. I haven't been in Washington for years and it's changed so much."

"Yes, I'm told it has," Temple said pleasantly. Mrs. Amory was pretty. Jud had her eyes, but his eyes had depth and purity . . . "But I know it only in the changed state."

"Really?"

"Shall we find a table?" Jud asked.

When Mrs. Amory removed her gloves, Temple saw several old brilliant diamonds in gold settings on her plump, well-cared-for hands. Her nail polish was deep crimson, expertly applied. She looked as a woman does who spends much time under hair dryers and at a manicurist's table in so-called beauty salons gaudy with chromium and red leather. She looked, too, as though she had had no real exercise in years and that it had been years also since the wind or sun had touched her. She made Temple think of cold cream and chin straps and afternoons of bridge and boxes of chocolate candy.

She turned to Temple and ma a sad face. "Isn't it terrible ab Jud? My poor boy . . . I drop everything and came down me moment I received his tele m. Losing his father and now ing him . . ."

"I'm not dead yet," Ju said. "Mother, let's not go i all that again, please."

"But, darling, I don't why with so many people un ployed and so many worthle people they have to take y g men who are doing well i usiness. Why don't they send men in prisons? Now don't u agree with me, Miss Grave

Jud said, "Convict might run the wrong way. O cheer up, Mother."

Mrs. Amory took gaily printed handkerchief fr her bag and daintily touched h eyes with it. But she wasn't cr g.

"Jud doesn't ur stand how a mother feels. O A cocktail! I didn't hear you er, dear." She drank as thoug she were very thirsty indeed, anwhile taking short, quick p on a cigaret. "But I told Jud iss Graves, that he need not w about his poor mother. I pro d him I wouldn't make a scen s I did yesterday in the statio Everyone knew I had a boy w had just enlisted."

She patt Jud's hand and smiled at hi "And dear, remember you pri ed to send me a picture in form."

"But I be only a private, Mother. ere's nothing very glamorou bout that."

"But I ow you'll be a captain before w long. Hetty Turner's son is a tain. Do you remember He Jud? I play bridge with he very Wednesday . . . No, ev Thursday afternoon. There's nother crowd of girls on Wedne y. Do you play, Miss Grave

"I y very poorly," Temple said.

"O really? That's too bad. You ould play more or take som essons. "I've always loved car Jud's father didn't care for the but he was always so sweet ab my going out to play. He di mind in the least how many ni s I went out. He'd read or w and look after Jud. I've had t sweetest two boys in the world . . . ar, when the waiter passes thi way again, will you order anc er round of drinks?" To Temp she said, "Jud's tele gram ga me shuch a shock . . . My ner s . . . Really, if I didn't take a tle stimulant . . . Oh, I'm n going to drink alone, am I?"

Ju said, "I'll have one with you ut Temple never has but one ou have such a beautiful na e, dear, and you remind me o ome movie star . . . I saw her i a picture recently; they played song throughout the whole pic are. You hear it on the radio so much . . . Oh, what was it? I can't remember but I will . . . I always remember the ones that make me cry . . . Silly, isn't it? Just a picture."

She patted Jud's hands again and smiled at him. "Every minute with you is so precious, darling. If I had known I was going to lose you like this, I'd have come down and taken an apartment here as you asked me to." She turned to Temple. "He wanted me to come down with him, but it seemed so hard then to leave my friends and my clubs. I didn't see how I could adjust myself in new surroundings. I was afraid I'd be lonely. It was easy for him. He's young. But I'm not so old, am I?" She laughed, a light, tinkling little laugh. "I won't be old. I keep telling myself that I simply won't be old. I loathe old people." She gave Temple a sharp look. "Now I know!" I told you I'd remember. It was Ingrid Bergman . . . or was it Bergner?"

Temple said, "Thank you."

Jud said, "I'm afraid we'll have to rush it a bit if you're going to make your train, Mother."

"You're leaving tonight?" Temple asked. She had taken it for granted that she must share Jud with his mother until he left.

"Yes," Mrs. Amory said painfully. "I just have to be home tomorrow. I don't know what the committee would do . . . I couldn't turn the program over to someone else at the last minute." Her plump fingers played nervously with her diamonds. "And, of course, it's such a big thing . . . a hundred tables."

She looked appealingly at Jud, who said, "That's okay, Mother."

"It's for charity," Mrs. Amory added hopefully.

Jud smiled. "There's no reason why you should turn your life upside down before I'm in the army."

"But you are all I have in the world, darling!"

For the remainder their conversation was fitful and meagre. Mrs. Amory ate heartily, her diamonds sparkling. She ordered a heavy sweet dessert which she ate with undiminished relish.

Temple wondered whether she were to accompany them to the station. She hoped not since she feared that Jud's mother would repeat what obviously had been for him an embarrassing scene in the station yesterday. Embarrassing to Jud, but highly satistying to his mother, she thought hotly.

Mrs. Amory had not missed the opportunity to appear as the broken-hearted mother giving her son to his country. . . . It seemed to Temple that her dinner had remained in her throat. She thought, "I can see my mother in a situation like this—kind and dignified, keeping her emotions to herself if it killed her."

Looking at his watch, Jud said, "I'm afraid we'll have to be going."

Temple said, "I'll take a taxi home, Jud. I don't mind at all."

As they went out Mrs. Amory walked ahead so intent at looking at herself in her compact mirror that she did not hear Jud say, "I'll be back for you later, Temple."

On the sidewalk Temple turned to Mrs. Amory and held out her hand. She loathed saying what she did not mean, "It was so nice meeting you." When her hand touched the hand of Jud's mother she was reminded of the clay with which she had played as a child. And Jud's touch was so warmly human.

Mrs. Amory accepted the compliment with her tinkly laugh. "Thank you, dear. That's sweet of you. Bye-bye."

In the taxi (a rare luxury, but Temple had hated simply to walk away) she thought, "She didn't like me or dislike me. She didn't think about me except as a girl Jud invited to dinner and a girl who reminded her of an actress. She'll never think about me again . . . And Jud's father died so that she could live . . . I feel all hollow inside."

When she reached the house, she found Abby alone in the sitting room playing the piano.

"Hi," Abby said. "You're home early."

Temple thought, "What will I do when Jud goes? What will I do with my nights? Abby sews or reads or plays the piano and writes letters, writes letters, writes letters . . . When you are 21 and want to live every minute you do not have to work; you write letters."

"Jud's coming back for me. He took his mother to the station."

"Did you like her?"

Temple shook her head . . . How could she be fair and honest, too?

"I'm sorry," Abby said. "I'm sorry it's like that."

In half an hour Jud came back. They talked for a time to Abby and then went out to his car. Temple wondered whether he would speak of his mother. But he did not. Starting the car, he said, "I wish there was someplace where we could go and be alone. I hate parking the car as if we were kids." In the half-light he saw her smile. "Take off your hat and let your hair blow . . . and move close to me. All right?"

"Very all right."

"Good. Let's go . . . I don't know where."

THEATERS

Musical Film.

Irving Berlin wrote nine new songs for the parade of holidays in the Bing Crosby-Fred Astaire comedy with music, "Holiday Inn," at the Ohio. All of them are in celebration of a particular holiday while his famous "Easter Parade," written for the stage version of "As Thousands Cheer," is also incorporated in the film. Crosby and Astaire plus Marjorie Reynolds form a song and dance trio in the film which splits up after Crosby decides to open a Connecticut farmhouse just for holiday gatherings. Elaborate production numbers embroider the plot and Virginia Dale and Walter Abel support the stars.

Double Header.

Mickey Rooney's new comedy, "A Yank at Eton," furnishes the fun on the Madison program while the United States government film "World at War," a full-length feature, provides plenty of food for thought. Mickey plays an irrepressible American lad who finds himself in school at Eton after his mother marries an Englishman. He engages in all sort of experiences including a steeplechase at the finish. Tina Thayer and Edmund Gwenn are cast. Based on factual news-reels never before seen the war film shows the Nazi war machine in all its striking power.

Aircraft Drama.

George Tobias has the role of fine old foreman whose zeal f his job of turning out planes spires workers in "Wings for Eagle," the Ritz attraction st ring Ann Sheridan and Der Morgan. Laid in the Lockheed ation plant during the period fore Pearl Harbor the plot s with a trio of aircraft wo rs faced with romantic and dom ic problems. Miss Sheridan is c as Jack Carson's wife and Mo an plays the other man. H. G. lls' "Mr. Kipps" is the co-featu

Lively Comedy.

Mischa Auer and Ernest uex help furnish the fun in Twin Beds," the rollicking farce how ing at the Park with Georg rent, Joan Bennett and Una erkel topping the cast. Handso decor dresses the picture tha as its action in four swanky a ments, mostly in that occupied b young married couple whose omestic life is upset by the zest he wife for causes. "Bombs Ov burma," the second film, based an incident in the Far East, rs Anna May Wong.

WOMEN SPEAKERS TO FILL WAR PROGRAMS

Red Booklets Delivered to University Women This Week Show Adjustment to Wartime Activities.

WITH one exception, University Women will listen to feminine speakers this year. Programs for that organization were delivered to approximately 130 members this week, so that everyone could have the year's activities well in mind before their first meeting which is to be held at the Women's club on Tuesday.

Planning a well rounded schedule of study and activity, the program committee consisting of Mrs. Thomas Hoffman, chairman, Mrs S. B. Vinson, Mrs. V. A. Simpson, Mrs. J. A. Greene, Mrs. E. L. Balyeat and Miss Fannie Lew Eiler, in charge of music, looked to proximity and sure availability for their war time diversion.

Miss Thelma Slack, head of the speech department of Ashland college will be the opening speaker. Ashland will also furnish another well received speaker in the personage of Mrs. H. E. Andrews who comes to the organization for their Christmas program. Mrs Andrews teaches Shakespeare and Bible at the neighboring college.

Mrs. H. F. White a popular speaker in the Columbus region presents a program in costume on Scandinavia for the November meeting of the organization. Mrs. White's subject is "The Problem of The Immigrant." This meeting will also be held at the Women's club. Two afternoon teas, in addition to the regular meetings have been planned for the sociability involved. For the programs at these affairs two Mansfield women will be in charge. Mrs. H. J. Paulsen, well known garden club member will give the group her ideas on "Christmas Decorations." Mrs. H. L. Knox is hostess for this tea. "Current Literature" is the subject Miss Virginia Chew, of the Mansfield Library and AAUW member, has been asked to review for a January 19th tea.

A program especially anticipated by the committee is one to be presented by Miss Jane Easton entitled "Shoes for Mechanical Horses." Miss Easton is a member of the National AAUW and is employed by the Studebaker corporation as a speaker on problems of current interest. The future of native rubber and the possibilities of synthetic rubber will be touched upon under the title of her subject. Miss Lou Riley, head of the Assembly Center for the Lazarus company will be in charge of a program entitled "What America is Wearing," planned for March 2.

Again staying close to home, Frank Peat, of the literary colony by that name in Bellville was asked to talk on "Children's Illustrations." Mr. Peat works with his wife Fern Bisel Peat and many of the finest children's books in the Mansfield library are done by them

The program committee and governing board of the University Women this year substituted one social meeting a month for the entire membership in place of the study groups formerly sponsored by the organization. University Women are filling all of their spare time with war activities and this step was taken to provide something beside the program meetings

Membership in the organization is open to any graduate of an accredited college Sixty hours of academic work at an accredited college entitles one to Associate membership. Mrs. C R Keller, 131 North Mulberry Street, is the membership chairman. Mrs. A. G Earnshaw, 691 Stewart Lane, is the member to call to check credentials.

The meeting on Tuesday is not a guest meeting. On Oct. 20, the membership committee is planning a covered-dish dinner at Prospect Park for the purpose of entertaining those interested in joining the Mansfield AAUW.

POCAHONTAS TEAM NOTICE.

Mrs Anna Wigton will entertain the Pocahontas degree team at the home of Mrs. Rose Berry, 211 South Adams street, this evening.

To Wed Oct. 17

The approaching marriage of Miss Maylily Musselman to Richard Charles Reid of Akron has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B B. Musselman of Galion. Miss Musselman has been in Mansfield for the past three years. She was graduated from the Mansfield General hospital School of Nursing in June. The date chosen for the marriage is Oct. 17, the 53rd wedding anniversary of the bride-elects grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Eichler of Crestline.

Auxiliary Holds Special Dinner

To celebrate the second anniversary of the founding of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, members had a dinner in the lodge hall at 6:30 p. m. Friday. Fifty members and two guests were served at two long tables decorated in red, white and blue. Hostesses were Mrs. Marie Herold, Mrs. Mary Hartman, Mrs. Katherine Heichel and Mrs. Katherine Hockensmith.

Atty. Conrad J. Kalbfleisch spoke on "Auxiliaries." Following the dinner the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Thelma Fisher, the president. Mrs. Donna Berg received the victory prize. Mrs. Grace Mapes and Mrs Florine Hamilton were chosen to select gifts for soldiers. The next meeting will be held Oct. 16.

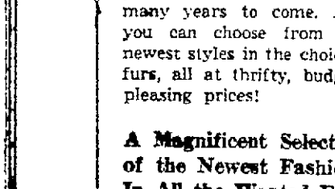
RODNEY DARLING HONORED.

Mrs Robert Darling, Herring avenue, entertained nine small guests Saturday, in the basement of her home, in honor of her son Rodney's sixth birthday anniversary, which he will observe Oct. 7. Ice cream and cake were served at three card tables. Decorations were in red, white and blue. Those present were Dennis Davis Karol Joyce Boetcher, Susan Whitmore, Robert Hoffman, Charleen Appleman, Teddy Selby, Jeanne White, Jackie Inscore and Gregory Calver. The honored guest received many nice gifts.



Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Event Of Sunday

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary Sunday were Mr. and Mrs Leopold Schuler, 183 North Benton street, with a dinner at the Susie Janis home. Present were their six children and nine grandchildren. Attractive decorations were carried through in gold.

Mrs. Schuler is 76 years old and her husband is 80. Sunday they attended services at St. Paul's Lutheran church in which their wedding took place 50 years ago. After the dinner, open house was observed at their home for friends and acquaintances.

The Schulers have spent most of their life in Mansfield where he was employed at the Mansfield Lockwasher company before retirement. Their children are: Harry of this city, George in Cincinnati, Ernest of Lima, Richard in Barberton, Mrs. Harry Walker, Bucyrus, and Mrs. Oscar Erdenberger of Mansfield.

Dinner Party For Robert H. Touby

For the pleasure of her son, Robert H. Touby of Columbus, whose 21st birthday occurred on Oct. 1, Mrs W. E. Post entertained with a family dinner at her home, 274 Davis road, on Saturday evening. Mrs. Isla Kendall of East Cleveland, whose birthday was celebrated at the same time, was also an honored guest. Both guests were the recipients of gifts.

Table decorations for the dinner consisted of a floral centerpiece in crystal holders set upon a mirror. Crystal holders held tall lighted tapers and patriotic favors marked the places of those present.

Mr. Touby enlisted recently in the Army Air Corps and is awaiting an early call to a training station.

Monday Nighters Hold Meeting

Monday Nighters of St. John's Evangelical church met last night at Liberty park. Twelve members were present. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Chris Geisel in the absence of the president The husbands of members were entertained. Tables were decorated with large trays arranged with fruits and vegetables, and pumpkins holding black candles were at either end. Napkins in fall colors carried out the color scheme.

Cards were played, prizes for high score going to Art Touby, Walter Wolfe, Mrs. Henry Niklaus, and Mrs. Esley Cleckner. Low score was awarded to Mrs. Fred Matthes, John Chew, Mrs. Walter Wolfe, Roy Lantz. Next meeting in November to be announced later. Hostesses will be Mrs. H. R. Fiedler and Mrs. Donald McGinnis. The group voted to do Red Cross work.

Hold Meeting At Legion Home

The Junior auxiliary of the American Legion met at the Legion home Saturday afternoon and elected their officers for the coming year. Miss Wilma Durant was elected president, Joan Boylan vice president, Norma Buzzard secretary - treasurer, Jeannine Buzzard sergeant-at-arms, Mary Jeannette Knapp and Carol Hamman, color bearers.

Miss Norma Buzzard presided in the absence of Margery Hegneur, president. The colors were presented, allegiance to flag given and the meeting closed with the singing of "America."

If you Suffer 'PERIODIC'

FEMALE PAIN

And Want To Build Up Red Blood!

If at such times you, like so many women and girls suffer from cramps, headaches, backache, distress of "irregularities", periods of the blues —due to functional monthly disturbances—

Start at once—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound TABLETS (with added iron). They not only help relieve monthly pain but also accompanying tired, weak, nervous feelings of this nature. This is because of their soothing effect on ONE OF WOMAN'S MOST IMPORTANT ORGANS.

Taken regularly—Lydia Pinkham's Tablets help build up resistance against such symptoms. Also, their iron makes them a fine hematic tonic to help build up red blood corpuscles. Follow label directions.

VOWS EXCHANGED IN ST. PETER'S CHURCH

Miss Anne Enderle Becomes Bride of Jack E. Kennedy In Ceremony Saturday; Reception Held At Home.

AT 9:30 O'CLOCK Saturday morning, Miss Anne Elizabeth Enderle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Enderle, 524 Harter avenue, and Jack Elwood Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kennedy, 70 Greenwood avenue, were united in marriage at St. Peter's Catholic church. Palms, ferns and white gladioli provided the background for the single ring ceremony which was read by Msgr. R. C. Goebel.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory slipper satin gown made with a basque waistline. The skirt extended into a three-yard train and the square neckline was trimmed with Alencon lace. The long, tight-fitting sleeves ended in points over the hands. Miss Enderle's bridal illusion veil, worn Vion style, was held in place by a halo of orange blossoms. Tied to her first communion book were gardenias and swansonia with ribbons that extended to the hem of her gown.

Miss Louise Enderle was her sister's only attendant. Her deep water blue velvet dress also was made with a basque waistline, tight-fitting bodice and a square neckline trimmed in white open-work. Miss Enderle carried a front style bouquet of white pompon asters, gardenias and swansonia. Ribbons on her bouquet extended the full length of her gown.

The bride's mother was attired in a dress with black accessories and he had a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the bridegroom, chose a black dress with black accessories. Gardenias formed her corsage.

Serving as best man for Mr. Kennedy was Robert Perl. Robert Enderle, brother of the bride, and Nelson Blocher, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, were ushers. A reception for 60 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents from 2 until 4 o'clock the afternoon, with Mrs. John Enderle and Mrs. Robert Enderle sisters-in-law of the bride, hading.

When Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left for a wedding trip an unannounced destination, the bride was attired in a black dress with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. After Oct. 11, the couple will be at home at 100 Blymyer avenue.

Mrs. Kennedy was graduated from St. Peter's high school and is employed in the engineering department at the Ohio Brass company. Mr. Kennedy is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and Ohio State university and is employed as an engineer in the time study department at the Ohio Brass company.

Out of town guests were present from Detroit, Mich., Akron and Cleveland.

Enlists In WAACS

Within the next few weeks, Mrs. Mary Painter, Lamberton avenue, will leave for Fort Des Moines, Ia., where she will begin training as an auxiliary in the WAAC'S. She was sworn into the women's army at Columbus last week, and is among the first Mansfield girls to enter the service.

THE FACTS ABOUT FUNERAL SERVICE

A Lad of Action

IN THE FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

In this determined fight against the axis powers for our continued right to freedom, and all that the term implies ...FREEDOM TO WORSHIP...FREEDOM OF SPEECH...FREEDOM OF THE PRESS...FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY... there is a lad in his teens doing his bit, in a relatively small, but effective, manner.

He is your daily newspaper boy.

Each day he plays a patriotic role in seeing that you get your newspaper on time. As an American school boy he knows that you must be kept informed... that only an informed democracy has the incentive to fight for freedom.

At the same time, your newspaper boy is preparing himself for the day when he will take up the responsibilities of citizenship. Today in his newspaper route work he manages his own business, attends to his own affairs, settles his own problems. The future freedom of a nation is assured when such a lad of action today prepares so well for the active leadership which will come his way tomorrow.
